United Way campaign exceeds goal

The Tri-Cities Area United Way campaign surpassed its goal yesterday for the first time in eight years.

The 18-agency drive closed with announcement of receipts of $409,067 at a "Victory Luncheon" held by campaign workers at the YMCA.

"Clean-up" of accounts not yet completed will continue.

Pledges and contributions received at the luncheon after the computation had been made pushed the total past $400,000, and the figure is expected to rise steadily for a period of several weeks as solicitors are concluded and as intended contributions are forwarded.

The tally is about 19 per cent greater than the $345,000 raised a year ago.

The $409,067 total exceeds 102 per cent of the basic goal of $400,000. Additional funds beyond $400,000 were sought due to verified financial needs of the community service agencies.

Leo Schermer, a vice-president of the United Way, represented Paul H. Kelly, president, at the luncheon. Schermer is a partner in the Schermer Brothers Supermarket. Kelly is manager of the Granite City plant of A. O. Smith Corp.

"The result of the campaign proves that Quad-Cityans are generous and compassionate," Schermer told at the luncheon gathering of 50 division chairmen, group leaders and solicitors.

"This community is not a disaster area. Our people do respond with consideration and concern. When they are approached properly, they will give wholeheartedly to deserving causes," he asserted.

William F. Winter, editor of the Press-Record and general chairman of the campaign, cited teamwork by labor, management and a cross-section of Quad-City area organizations, businesses and individuals.

He and Schermer said between-drives contacts with agencies and citizens are expected to enable the momentum which developed this fall to continue into future yearly United campaigns.

The $409,067 total reported at yesterday's report session, the sixth of the seven-week campaign, represented a gain of $31,313 since the $377,754 announced on Oct. 31.

A breakdown shows contributions of $201,865 by employees and firms in the Industrial Division; $127,112 in the Civic Division; $24,978, Business.

Commercial Division, $17,657; Professional, $14,458; Mail-Telephone, $13,682; Madison-Venice, $10,653; and Construction, $9,260.

United Way officers besides Kelly and Schermer are Robert M. Edmonds, assistant to the president of Granite City Steel, United Way vice-president; and John L. "Jerry" McDonald Jr., vice-president and cashier, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, treasurer.

Winter headed a campaign staff of 500 volunteers.

George Pullanas, vice president-administration of the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp., served as vice-chairman of the drive.

Pullanas and Clyde "Bus" Boyd, a Granite City alderman and staff representative of the United Steelworkers of America, were co-chairmen of the Industrial Division.

Ernest A. Karandjeff, president of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank and the American National Bank of Granite City, was chairman of the United Way Business Division.

The Commercial Division was led by Harold R. Fischer, vice-chairman of the First Granite City National Bank.

Civic Division solicitation was directed by Paul Schuler, mayor of Granite City, and the Mail-Telephone Division was headed by Mrs. Joyce Schrader, a past president of Church Women United.

Sister Mary Thomas, administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital, was chairman of the Professional Division.

Avery Schermer, president of Schermer Brothers Supermarket, headed the Madison-Venice Division and George Weiss of Granite City Steel Co. was chairman of the County department workers, are not included in the budget figures.

$11,905,246 tentative budget for Madison County

A new Madison County budget of $11,905,246 for the 1973-74 year—the first deficit budget in many years—was announced by county finance officials Tuesday afternoon.

The budget embodies appropriations of $6,877,864 in general fund and $5,027,342 in the 16 county special tax accounts.

The total of $11,905,246 is an increase of $1,654,805 over the 1972-73 aggregate budget of $10,250,441.

County officials said the new budget is approximately $600,000 more than anticipated revenue for the year, and that the projected deficit undoubtedly will increase after negotiations are completed on salary schedules for county employees.

Any wage increases or other benefits that may be granted county employees, including courtrooms and sheriff's department workers, are not included in the budget figures.

Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City, chairman of the County Board, announced during budget meetings a week ago that the county faced a sizeable deficit because of a declining tax base, loss of fees from tax collections and increased operating costs.

The budget was posted at the county clerk's office at 5 p.m. Tuesday and will remain on file for public inspection until it is submitted to the County Board for approval in its meeting Nov. 28.

A major portion of the increase in the new appropriations is in the general fund budget which is up $1,047,199 over last year's budget of $5,830,705.

Total appropriations of $5,027,342 in the special tax accounts is an increase of $607,406 over last year's $4,419,936 budget.

Major items of cost in the general fund include $2,215,085 for administration, up from $1,631,423 last year, and $1,416,464 for operation of the sheriff's department, up from $1,378,312 last year.

The general fund also includes $1,369,000 for judiciary and court expenses, up from $1,303,490. Election expenses are budgeted at $599,200, compared to $178,066 last year. There will be primary and general elections during 1974.

An appropriation of $21,000 for the new position of administrative assistant to the County Board chairman is included in general fund items, along with $140,000 to continue a private data processing contract to ensure billing, extension and collection of taxes on time.

Appropriations for the sheriff's department include $110,000 to replace the 34-car fleet of cars operated by that department.

Major increases in special tax accounts include a budget of $236,244 for the detention home, up from $197,516, and $409,404 for the community mental health account, up from $433,450.

The appropriation of $850,000 for the municipal retirement fund is up from $700,000 budgeted last year.

The budget for the county highway account is set at $880,000, up slightly from last year's $878,380, but the county bridge fund budget of $600,000 is down from $804,000 a year ago.

Competition for board

Thirty-two Democrats and five Republicans have filed petitions of candidacy for nomination to Madison County Board posts.

The filing ended at 5 p.m. Tuesday at the office of County Clerk Eulalia Hotz with opposition on the Democratic ticket for three of the five board posts open to election in the four townships of the Quad-City area next year.

Republican candidates filed in only three of the 14 districts where board memberships are due to expire—District 5 (Godfrey), District 8 (Godfrey), and District 13 (Wood River). No Republican candidates filed in any of the five Quad-City districts subject to elections.

Democratic opposition for board posts in the Quad-City area developed in District 16 (Chouteau), District 21 (Granite City) and District 26 (Nauvoo).

(Granite City) and Nelson Hagnauer in District 20 (Granite City) are without opposition.

Candidates may withdraw from the primary until noon Saturday at the county clerk's office.

Donald "Dutch" Parish, Democratic candidate in District 16, is the only candidate, except Webb and Hagnauer, to file without opposition. Two or more Democratic candidates are in the field in each of the other 11 districts.

A three-way race for the Democratic board nomination in District 26 of Nauvoo Township where Louis E. Whitsell is the incumbent board member, and a three-way fight for the Democratic nomination in Chouteau District 16, will be among highlights of the election in the Quad-City area. Albert Doerr of South Roxana is the incumbent board member of District 16.

Opposition also developed in Granite City District 21 where Carl V. Buehler is the incumbent. Daniel Partney, son of former mayor Donald Partney, has filed against Buehler in that district.

In Chouteau Township 16, Doerr is opposed by Walter "Dick" Sparks, now supervisor of Chouteau Township and a former member of the old county board of supervisors before the board was reorganized two years ago.

Sparks sought "the board membership in elections two years ago, but was defeated by

Bonds sold

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer
A $4.1 million revenue bond issue was sold by the Granite City Council Tuesday night to Weeden & Co., a Chicago bonding firm, to finance the city's share of the new secondary sewage treatment plant.

The Chicago firm, the lowest of three bidders who sought the bond issue, offered an average interest rate of 5.702 per cent over a 20-year amortization period.

On the basis of the Weeden & Co. bid the city will pay $3,105,359 in interest to retire the $4.1 million bonds, assuming that the bond payments are extended over the entire 20-year repayment period. The bond sale contract provides that the city may pay off the bonds as rapidly as it wishes after 1985.

This would bring to $7,265,359 the total cost of both principal and interest in a 20-year repayment schedule. Interest costs would be reduced proportionately on any bonds paid off in advance of maturity dates after 1985.

The two other bids were submitted by Reinholdt & Gardner, St. Louis, with an average interest rate of 5.825 per cent, and Goldman, Sachs & Co., St. Louis, which offered an average interest rate of 5.8197 per cent.

A motion by Alderman Ronald Coleman to award the bond sale to Weeden & Co., seconded by Alderman Roy Poulos, was approved unanimously by the 11 aldermen attending the special meeting called by Mayor Paul Schuler to effect the bond agreement. Three members of the council, Alderman Walter Nunn, Steve Basarich and Gerald Bernley, were absent.

The Weeden & Co. bid offered the city a premium of $18, and proposed interest rates as follows: bonds maturing between 1974 and 1981, 6.9 per cent; 1982 through 1984, 5.3 per cent; 1985 through 1986, 5.5 per cent; 1987 and 1988, 5.6 per cent; 1989, 5.7 per cent, and 1990 through 1994, 5.75 per cent, for the average interest rate of 5.702 per cent.

Views on clinic differ

A number of members of the St. Elizabeth Hospital Medical Staff oppose the Staff Executive Committee's Nov. 10 statement Dr. Jacob Cohen said yesterday.

"I'm not referring to the issue of abortion, nor to the issue of an outpatient surgical center," Dr. Cohen said.

"The question I will raise at the Nov. 29 staff meeting is whether the medical staff has any business commenting on something other than the hospital itself—whether it has the right to speak out regarding a doctor's private practice."

The executive committee would not record as being "unanimously opposed to abortions on demand being performed in Granite City, whether performed in St. Elizabeth Hospital or in a separate facility."

Dr. Cohen said this action may have given the impression to the public that the executive committee was speaking on behalf of the Medical Staff.

"This was implied, and it's not true. We were not polled," Dr. Cohen said. He has been a member of the hospital staff 35 years.

"I don't like these tactics," the physician commented. "I didn't spend five years fighting a war with the idea we would accept here at home facilities that we were fighting against."

He said he has no objections to individual doctors taking a stand "pro or con" on public issues. He also does not oppose a stand by the Tri-City Medical Society if it conducts a vote first.

"What I do strongly oppose is the hospital staff or executive committee becoming involved in decision-making beyond the hospital itself," he concluded.

Broadway bidding

Dec. 11

A state bid letting for the relocation of Broadway in Venice and construction of approaches to FA Route 151 and McKinley bridge is scheduled Dec. 11 by the Illinois Department of Transportation, it was reported today.

The office of Melvin B. Larsen, engineer of local roads and streets for the state highway division, said the opening of bids on the project has been scheduled in accordance with plans and working specifications which were given final approval by the Venice City Council in early October.

The project is expected to be placed on the highway department's work schedule for 1974 under a Venice-city-federal agreement calling for 70 per cent of the construction cost by the state and federal governments.

The new agreement approved by the Venice council will reduce the city's share of the cost to about $300,000 from an earlier estimate of twice that amount.

A statement today by 29 members of the St. Elizabeth Hospital Medical Staff voiced opposition to abortions in this community.

Text of the statement submitted to the Press-Record follows:

"We, as members of the medical community, feel that it is public knowledge that a clinic performing abortions will be established in the Granite City area."

"We, therefore, wish it to be made known that the following members of the Medical Community are completely opposed to the idea of abortion on demand in the Granite City area, since it is regarded as totally abhorrent to the basic policy which states that 'we recognize the dignity of a human being and his right to life.'"

Energy conservation program GC Steel gas reduced; oil to decide production, job levels

The Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation, one of the largest users of energy in the St. Louis metropolitan area, has initiated "an aggressive energy conservation program in all operating departments," Robert D. McBride, vice president-operations, said today.

McBride urged all of Granite City Steel's 5,000 employees "to join in this energy conservation effort, which is national in scope but of particular importance to Granite City Steel."

He pointed out that the plant, the area's largest industrial user of natural gas, has had its natural gas allocation reduced.

"We have made extensive preparation to replace alternate fuels to replace natural gas," McBride said.

"However, our operations remain in jeopardy of severe curtailment in the event of abnormally cold weather or federal legislation restricting the allocation of fuel oil."

Granite City Steel is initiating many energy conservation measures to conserve its use of fuel oil, natural gas, electrical power and gasoline in the various processes involved in producing iron and steel and manufacturing flat-rolled steel products.

McBride said, "Only the most stringent measures and constant attention to detail throughout the plant will enable Granite City Steel to get through the winter without serious loss of production and a corresponding drop in employment."

The energy conservation program calls for a wide range of actions, McBride said, including the use only "as needed" of lights, heaters and electrical equipment; a 50 miles per hour highway speed limit for company automobiles and trucks;

Inspections to ensure that all steam and hot water lines are properly insulated; and fine-tuning of engines to conserve fuel use by company locomotives, cranes, trucks and other plant vehicles.

Furnaces will be maintained in peak condition to avoid fuel loss.

And furnace instrumentation will be monitored around-the-clock for maximum efficiency in the use of fuels, steam and power, McBride related.

A new computerized program for more efficient heating in the annealing department will be installed within the next 60 days and is expected to reduce fuel consumption in that department by up to 20 per cent, he said.

Attempt to reinstate 708 clerk

Wayne Bridgewater of Roxana, a member of the Madison County Board and the Madison County Mental Health (708) Board, is attempting to call a special executive session of the 708 Board members to re-establish the position of a clerk typist, a position deleted from the new budget which was approved Oct. 9.

The budget was cut between $7,000 and $8,000 to eliminate the post of Vivian Croiset, clerk typist, and to discontinue telephone service and monthly payments for a photocopy machine, all at the 708 Board's office at 2121b Troy Road, Edwardsville.

The post is to be eliminated Nov. 31. At the budget meeting, Board Chairman Ralph Yemm had to vote to break a tie on eliminating the position.

Bridgewater and Allen Claus, board secretary, voted against abolishing the position while Edwin F. Reiske and James DeFuntz, both of Granite City supported the plan. Two members were absent.

After Yemm voted to abolish the post, the board voted unanimously in favor of the total budget, Yemm related.

Claus said yesterday he has been contacted by Bridgewater and informed Bridgewater plans to call an executive session of board members for Monday night. Bridgewater was unavailable for comment.

"I don't know what he can do now, the budget has already been approved," Claus said, but added he probably will sign Bridgewater's request for the executive session if he receives it.

The signatures of two board members are necessary before the secretary, Claus, can call Yemm and ask that a meeting be called. Yemm then must call for the meeting.

5 firms offer Venice school insurance plans

Five insurance firms tendered life and medical insurance proposals to cover Venice School District employees at a special meeting of the Venice Board of Education Monday night.

Venice Supt. of Schools John O. Pier reported companies submitting bids were Blue Cross and Blue Shield of St. Louis, Horace Mann Educators Insurance of Springfield, Ill.; Golden Rule Life Insurance of St. Louis; Prudential Life Insurance Co. of Granite City and Prudential Life Insurance Co. of St. Louis.

Proposals varied considerably in scope and the board referred the bids to a special committee of employees and board members for evaluation, Pier said.

The group is expected to present a recommendation at next week's regular board session which has been moved back one day to Tuesday due to district officers attending this weekend's convention of the Illinois Association of School Boards in Chicago.

Committee delegates chosen to represent the school board are Jack Tolliver, chairman, Elmer Taylor and Willie Johnson. Stanley Lynch, committee chairman from Local 965, American Federation of Teachers, will head the faculty representation with two additional Local 965 members to be named.

A seventh member of the special insurance evaluation committee will be selected from the Building Service Employees Union, Local 98, Pier said.

Leo Davinroy, board president, conducted the special meeting. The only other item of business involved approval of a $159 requisition for text books for Venice-Lincoln Technical Center.

Prepare to begin area job drive

Sixty executives on loan to the National Alliance of Businessmen soon will be calling on area businesses and institutions, seeking jobs for disadvantaged people, Vietnamese veterans and needy youths.

The solicitors, on loan to the NAB from area companies and the Missouri and Illinois employment services, will attend a training session from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday at the Missouri Athletic Club.

On Monday, they will "take to the street" in pursuit of employment for 5,000 area disadvantaged people, 1,500 veterans and, next summer, for 3,000 youths.

At the training session, the solicitors will learn NAB history and objectives, hints on how to approach employers, and other information to help them succeed in the drive, which will run through January. At noon, they will hear from the NAB metropolitan area chairman, Nicholas P. Veecher, who is chairman of the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp.

Veecher said the loaned solicitors are the key to the success of the NAB campaign. "Their very availability reflects the considerable support and cooperation the NAB here has received from the business community since its inception."

"It makes me optimistic that we will reach our goal this year, as has always been the case in the past."

With branches in major employment centers throughout the U. S. and headquarters in Washington, D. C., the National Alliance of Businessmen is staffed by 3,500 persons, the vast majority of whom are on loan and paid by their companies for periods ranging from three months to two years.

He wore a blue stocking cap, dark blue P coat and blue denim trousers. He entered, displayed the gun and demanded all of the bills. After receiving the money, he left through the front door and ran west along Pontoon Road, the clerk related.

South JV grid squad betters North 56-13

Granite City area football fans who had hoped for a North-South rivalry clash this year, which did not materialize, witnessed Tuesday afternoon at South Field the first football game ever between the two schools. The Warrior jayvee team trampled the sophomore Steelers of North 56-13.

Leading 14-0 on the two first period TD's by Nick Dochwat and Joe Ward, South's Bryan Bunjan moved the ball 64-yards in four plays late in the second quarter, then handed-off to Frank Barunica who scrambled 19-yards for a TD. Bunjan opened the score to 21-6 with the extra point.

North cut into the Warriors' lead when Mickey Smith intercepted a pass at the Warrior 30 and ran it back for a Steeler score with 24 seconds 21-13 going into the third period.

Bunjan scrambled 33 yards for another South TD late in the quarter and hit Paul Evans with a nine-yard screen pass to again score before the third period ended. Bunjan also kicked both extra points for a 35-13 lead.

Four minutes into the third period, after North failed to move the ball on downs, Barunica pitched back from Bunjan and ran 34-yards along the left sideline to increase the lead to 42-13.

Ken Tuthill topped a 65-yard drive by South with a five yard TD dash with six minutes left in the game for a 49-13 lead.

Just before the end of the game, North kicked the lead away, after failing to move past its own 46. North took the boot on the two-yard line but could not get out past its 10 in four plays.

South took the fourth down punt on the enemy's 49 and in four plays moved the ball down to North's three where a TD attempt by John Cionko was thwarted by the Steelers' Jerry Gerkin.

With 27 seconds left in the final period, Cionko again took the lead when he scrambled in to score, giving the Warriors a final score of 56-13.

North's first quarter touchdown was made by Jim Simpson.

Barunica was the Warriors' leading ball carrier, gaining 139 yards to South's 282 in rushing and led the team with four pass receptions for 107 yards of the team's 136.

Today at 4 p.m. the North-South freshmen test their brute and wit against each other. South field in the final non-sports game of the season.

Wilson firm may build hospital

A Granite City construction firm is favored to receive a $4.2 million contract to construct the new Oliver C. Anderson Hospital on Illinois 162, just north of Illinois 159, near Maryville.

Daniel Hicks, executive vice-president of Southwestern Illinois Health Facilities, Inc., which will build the 120-bed hospital, said the executive committee has recommended.

The 44-member board will consider the recommendation at a meeting Tuesday, Hicks added.

Five bids were opened Oct. 31 and negotiations have been conducted since that time with some of the costs being curbed by changes in materials and other alterations. Hicks said.

The total cost of the new hospital, including grounds improvements, now is projected at $8.1 million.

Of the $3,085,000 designated for the treatment plant, $650,000 is to be repaid into the Sewage Treatment (primary) Plant fund from which the city has been borrowing to pay engineering fees and preliminary costs of the secondary treatment program.

The city must finance at least 10 per cent of the new plant construction work before it is eligible to receive federal money under an EPA grant of $8,800,000 which has been approved as the government's share of the plant construction.

Total cost of the secondary sewage treatment program is estimated at $11,674,000, including engineering costs, land acquisition and incidental costs.

After the bids were read by City Clerk Robert Stevens, the offers were computed by John R. Gaebel, attorney of Charles & Trauchent, St. Louis bond authorities; City Attorney George Filcoff; Horace Calvo, special city bond attorney; City Treasurer Paul Rutledge and Stevens.

Gaebel then told the council that he believed the city had a fair bid on the basis of the current bond market. He explained that the contract term permitting an early retirement of some of the bonds "costs a little more," but said he believed the flexibility in the retirement schedule was to the city's advantage.

Deadline for park women's programs

Interested persons may contact Mike Jesse at the park office or 877-3039 for additional information.

Open registration for park leagues

The Granite City Park District is accepting team entries for its classic church and high school basketball leagues which begin Monday, Nov. 26, at area high schools. The total cost of the new program is $45 for high school leagues and $35 for church leagues and must be paid on or before tomorrow at the Park District office.

All interested persons may receive additional information by contacting Mike Jesse at 877-3039.

bond issue by mid-December, depending upon the timetable for printing and signing of the bonds and their delivery to the bonding company. Work on the new treatment plant adjoining the city's primary plant on the Granite City Army Installation grounds began a month ago.

The city's bond program provides that $3,085,000 of the bond revenue shall be used to finance construction costs of the new plant, while the remaining $1,015,000 is to be used to retire outstanding bonds sold in December 1967 to build the city's primary treatment plant.

Steeler kickers 2nd in tourney

The soccer Steelers of GCBS North, defeated 1-2 by Jacksonville in the Illinois district final on Oct. 27, carried their outstanding 153-1 regular season record across the river to O'Fallon, Mo., and captured the runner-up honors in the St. Louis Metropolitan Soccer League tournament Tuesday.

In the finals, the Steelers were defeated 0-2 by St. John of St. Louis.

North, because its school enrollment is larger than the other league members, was invited to the tournament on the condition head coach Bob Kehoe would not use any seniors. That robbed the Steelers of six starters throughout the eight day long competition which began on Monday, Nov. 5.

The local school lost three key players, Dave Wolf, Bill Schaefer and Kevin Smith, due to injuries received in the tournament before clashing with St. John for the title.

The Steelers, having defeated St. John 3-0 in regular season play, met the St. Louis team twice at O'Fallon before Tuesday.

The first clash ended with St. John posting an 0-3 victory over North, which then bounced back Monday to win 1-0 over the previously unbeaten St. John squad.

In Monday night's game, Harvey Breckner, taking an assist from Dave Wolf, scored 10 minutes into the second half for the game's only goal.

Goalie Rick Demaree, who stopped five St. John shots, was credited with the shutout, the 16th of the year for the Steelers.

North downed St. Francis de Sales 2-0 on the opening day of the double-elimination contest and beat the Pioneers of Assumption (East St. Louis) 1-0 on Wednesday before losing to St. John the following Friday.

The Steelers moved into the finals with a 1-0 victory Sunday over the host St. Dominic team and advanced to win over St. John Monday, earning the right to play for the championship.

Steeler Coach Bob Kehoe remarked later, "I have to give credit to St. John. With only three seniors on the team they played a good game."

The players of North brought home the school's first athletic trophy of any kind for their second place showing and posted a first year record of 19-5-1. The Steelers scored a total of 61 goals against their enemies and allowed only 15 points to be scored against them.

The Steelers' only other losses were dealt by their sister school, GCBS South on Sept. 18 and again on Oct. 19. The team's record was 2-2 at block with St. Dominic on Sept. 23 at O'Fallon.

Weekend grid action to close regular season

With this weekend putting the regular season football action, only three Southwestern Conference games are slated to be played.

The conference leader Belleville West (5-0-0) and third place GCBS South (4-2-0) clash tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Belleville; the seventh and eighth place teams, Cahokia (1-5-0) and Collinsville (1-6-0) meet at 7:30 p.m. in Collinsville, and second place St. Louis (4-0-1) meets the fourth place Belleville East.

The two other conference teams completed their season this past weekend. Alton, fifth in the standings with a 3-3-1 record, and Edwardsville, sixth with a conference record of 3-3-0.

Tomorrow night Alton Marquette fans will witness an important non-conference game when the Explorers travel to St. Charles, Mo., to play Duchesne in an attempt to give Marquette its first perfect football season. The Alton team's record now stands at 9-0.

South, MHS face final grid foes

Granite City High School North completed its first year of varsity football this past weekend but two of the local teams, GCHS South and Madison, still have one game each to go which looms as very important for each school.

The Warriors clash head-on with the Southwestern Conference leader Belleville West tomorrow night at 8 in Belleville and the Trojans play host to the Panthers of O'Fallon at 2 p.m. Saturday.

The Warriors, eliminated from the conference title race a few weeks ago, carry a 5-4 record (4-2 in conference play) against the Maroons, who have a 9-6 overall record. South will attempt to avenge last year's 36-8 defeat to Belleville West and maintain a season ending edge in the win-loss column.

Both teams are going into action after non-conference games this past weekend—South from its 7-4 defeat at Jefferson City, Mo., and Belleville fresh from a 21-8 victory over Belleville A-10 in which West captured its third straight city championship title.

Madison's Trojans will be seeking their first win of the season against the O'Fallon Panthers, who shut out the Trojans 6-0 last year. Madison lost to Borgia (Washington, Mo.) Saturday 22-0.

Trojan Joe Young ran 81 yards for a touchdown in the Borgia game, which would have put Madison on the scoreboard had it not been for an infraction of the rules. Last year against O'Fallon, Young gained 128 yards in rushing without ever getting into the enemy's end zone.

The Panthers are fresh from a 30-0 victory at Triad in which the team picked up 20 yards rushing and Quarterback Rich Jones hit on 11 of 18 passes at 166 yards and four touchdowns.

Coach Al Vander Haar of Madison told the Press-Record, "Our attitude is better than it's ever been going into Saturday's clash."

"Our defensive unit stopped Borgia five times inside the 10 and once inside the 20 yard line. That's good football."

Looking back over the season, Vander Haar thinks his Trojans have given fans good exciting football with breakaway touchdowns. "We aren't holding back on anything, we'll give our all this weekend," he predicted.

The Southwestern Conference title will be decided Thanksgiving Day at East St. Louis with Belleville West and the Flyers of East St. Louis once again clashing for the championship.

GC park sports banquet Monday

Monday will mark the Granite City Park District's 14th annual sports award banquet, beginning at 6:15 p.m. in the cafeteria of Granite City High School South.

More than 197 awards will be presented to area teams in six categories—tennis, football, baseball, women's softball, men's softball and basketball, as well as service and appreciation awards to individuals who have contributed time in supporting youth programs in this community.

Sports personalities who will appear to greet the young athletes and serve as guest speakers are Pittsburgh Pirate baseball player Dai Maxvill, a former Granite Cityan and Cardinal shortstop, Detroit Tiger pitcher Don Shaw, Rick Wies, a Boston Red Sox hurler and Cardinal football star Tom Banks.

The annual event, with Henry Gabriel, Park Board president, serving as master of ceremonies will honor participants in the 1973 park district sports programs.

SIUE rated 2nd

With St. Louis University's 1-9 defeat of top-ranked SIUE during the weekend, the latest collegiate soccer rankings have tightened up considerably.

The Billikens have recaptured the nation's No. 1 position, a ranking they held earlier in the season before losing to the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay. SIUE has dropped to No. 2 with 397 votes, 33 less than the Billikens, who received 16 of 18 possible first-place ballots.

The University of San Francisco trails the Cougars by just five votes in third place, and undefeated Clemson University has 378 for fourth, just 14 behind USF. Clemson and USF each captured one first-place vote.

The University of Missouri-St. Louis climbed one rung to fifth place after concluding its regular season with a 7-3 mark. Last week's fifth-ranked team, Pennsylvania U., dropped to 11th after a loss saw its record slip to 9-2-4.

Mat Cougars in peak condition

Although it's difficult predicting how a team will perform before the season begins, one thing is certain about this year's SIUE wrestling team: Coach Larry Kristoff's grapplers will be in the best physical condition of their wrestling careers.

"We've been working awfully hard in preparation for the upcoming season," Kristoff explained. "Each night, in addition to our normal drills, we run eight miles. Some of the guys are starting to think they're out for cross-country."

Whether or not the hard work pays off will be determined in the season's opener, the prestigious Southern Invitational, Nov. 23-24 in Chattanooga, Tenn. Seventy teams representing major colleges from across the nation will participate.

"I feel we're right on schedule in preparing for the Invitational," Kristoff said. "As a team we're looking good. As far as individuals go, Don Hoschaw (a junior from Carroll Street, Ill.), Larry Pruitt (another junior, from St. Louis), and Greg Tuck (a sophomore from St. Louis) have been outstanding."

This week, Kristoff will determine his top wrestlers in each weight class through a series of challenge matches. The winner in each classification will wrestle in Chattanooga and will help form the Cougars' first-string.

Registration ending Saturday for bowling

Saturday will be the last day for area youths to register for participation in the Granite City Park District's bowling program, according to coordinator Mike Jesse.

All junior high and high school age youths, boys and girls, are invited to register between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Saturday at Tri-Mor Bowl, 2701 Nameoki Rd., where the players will compete.

Funds sought to remove last 96 submerged cars

Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas Byron yesterday asked the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission to consider providing $50,000 to finance a search of the Mississippi River bed and removal of stolen autos found underwater.

Efforts to recover more than 100 cars were suspended Tuesday. The Madison County Sheriff's Office has estimated it may cost $200 to $400 per day to continue.

The cars are believed to have been vehicles stolen between 1969 and about one year ago, according to sheriff's detectives.

Ten cars had been hauled from the river when efforts were discontinued—three stolen from Granite City and the others taken from St. Louis and St. Louis County.

They were located Saturday in about 35 feet of water just off a ramp on the northwest corner of Chouteau Island. Several officials had reported hearing rumors of the "auto graveyard" several months ago but had been unable to launch a full-scale underwater search on sketchy evidence.

Divers who assisted voluntarily said 106 cars were scattered under the water, stacked four or five deep in some places.

Of the 10 cars recovered, only two had been stripped of valuable accessories. The others were intact, some with ignition keys in the locks and in the "on" position.

Some may have been dumped into the river by teenage "joyriders" and others may have been stolen by thieves who took tires, radios and other items, officials have indicated. Insurance investigators into the 10 recovered cars are under way to determine if any of them were stolen with an owner's knowledge and consent, in a possible attempt to defraud an insurance company.

Authorities said potential schemes could include double insurance, collecting for a car when it was about to be repossessed, or a theft after one-vehicle accident in which the owner did not have collision insurance but did have theft insurance. It was stressed that all such aspects are only speculation.

Divers, including some from the East Side Divers' Club of Granite City, worked during the weekend and some continued Monday. Some suggested pay for future work because of the danger involved and because some would have to take time off from their jobs.

Tow trucks are available at no expense to the county but insurance firms are paying them for each car recovered. Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department support for the divers also has been free to the county on a voluntary basis.

Deputies said yesterday that some divers who might volunteer their efforts are not insured. "We could get 100 free divers if we wanted, but they are not insured and we could not use them because of the danger involved," a detective commented.

Among Granite City divers active this weekend were Ron Kibort, Phil Lamm and Dave Warren. They reported the water was cold and so much they had to work by touch because they could not see anything underwater.

Committee fight looms

A move by a Madison County group of Democrats to back a candidate for Democratic state central committee member in the 23rd Congressional district, which includes the Quad-City area, was reported today.

Dick H. Mudge, former Madison County state's attorney, said that a group of "liberal" Democrats support Richard Allen, Granite City attorney and former Granite City Township Democratic chairman, for the committee post, regardless of what St. Clair County Democratic leaders said in setting on a candidate from that area.

The committee post now is held by Albert G. Fields, the former East St. Louis mayor, who is being opposed by an organization of New Day Democrats in St. Clair County, Francis Touchette of Centerville, leader of the new Democratic faction, was to confer this week with Fields in an attempt to settle the factional dispute and agree on a committee member candidate.

Mudge, an Edwardsville attorney, opposed Fields for the committee post in 1968 and 1969. The 23rd congressional district includes all of St. Clair County and part of Madison County.

Walter T. "Buck" Simmons, chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, said in a comment on the reports because "they are not worth getting excited about."

Simmons, a long-time supporter of Fields, said the committee post "is only a prestige post. It doesn't pay any money and it really doesn't dispense patronage."

Some Quad-City Democratic leaders have suggested Granite City Mayor Paul Souther as a candidate for this area.

News notes

Exchange of war prisoners between Israel and Egypt began today.

U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell ruled Wednesday the firing of Special Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox was illegal. Cox later was ordered to return to the post. Gesell assailed any plan to create a prosecutor appointed and supervised by courts.

Paul Simon, former lieutenant governor who for many years represented this district in the state legislature, made it official Wednesday at Carbondale that he will run for the Democratic nomination for the seat in Congress being vacated by Cong. Kenneth Gray. Robert Hayes, formerly of the Press-Record news staff, will be a campaign aide.

Cong. John B. Anderson said yesterday he will seek reelection and will not be a candidate for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination to oppose Sen. Adlai Stevenson III.

With his tax relief plan killed Tuesday night by the House Appropriations Committee, Gov. Daniel Walker said Wednesday he will back a bill ending the sales tax on drugs and medical supplies and boosting the income tax exemption from $1,000 to $1,200.

The Illinois House voted 93-53 to withdraw a ballot proposal for partisan election of judges. Since the Senate acted earlier, the proposed referendum will not take place.

Gov. Walker said Tuesday he will name 50 volunteers to represent consumers on state regulatory boards and commissions.

The Illinois Manufacturers' Association yesterday urged Illinois to join such states as Ohio and Massachusetts in permitting higher sulfur fuels to be burned. It is contended that environmental "overkill" in Illinois has forced many firms to switch to scarce gas and oil in areas where there is no air pollution problem.

State Sen. Sam Vadabene said today Chokoma Mound State Park is to be expanded by 43 acres. The Illinois Conservation Department is seeking for release of $160,000 from the Capital Development Bond Fund to acquire the land for recreation.

The "way of lights" at the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, to be lighted Nov. 23 to Jan. 7, will be on from 5 to 9 weeknights instead of 5 to 10 to conserve energy.

Reservations continue to be accepted at the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce for the group's annual dinner Wednesday evening, Nov. 23, at Sunset Hills Country Club. Principal speaker will be H. M. Love, president of Granite City Steel.

A training program on the Occupational Safety and Health Act is set for 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 3, at the ICA under sponsorship of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, where information and reservations are available at 876-6000. Registration will start at 8 a.m. Dec. 3, and advance reservations are being urged.

Dan Hicks, executive vice-president of the proposed Oliver C. Anderson Hospital on Route 162, said yesterday it has been approved for a $1,534,000 federal loan.

Illinois junior colleges will receive all the money originally appropriated for them this year as legislators Tuesday completed overriding of a $4 million cut in the $63 million budget.

Dr. George Wilkins, Dr. Robert Lam, Dr. Luis Ventura, Dr. Leo Sachar, Dr. Prasanna Kumar, Dr. Norman Clayburn, Dr. Thwan Han, Dr. Lorenzo Maun, Dr. Belmont Thiele, Dr. Abdul Razzaq, Dr. Mansel Marban and Dr. G. Halayama.

"Some of the physicians were unable to be contacted. Dr. Schnellmann's name was inadvertently omitted Monday in the list of Executive Committee members opposing abortion."

POW exchange flights begin

The International Red Cross today began supervising the exchange of Israeli and Egyptian prisoners of war with the first planeloads of wounded soldiers being flown today to Tel Aviv and Cairo on board Swiss aircraft.

In a report to the Tri-Cities American Red Cross Chapter board of directors this week, Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, executive secretary, said the Middle East conflict is actively involving the services of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC).

More than 20 ICRC delegates stationed in Israel, Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Lebanon have been responsible for negotiating with the belligerents to ensure maximum protection of the victims of the fighting, she reported to the local Red Cross directors.

The exchange of about 8,000 Egyptian prisoners and close to 300 Israeli POWs is expected to take about a week. Simultaneous flights left today traveling directly to the belligerent capitals instead of stopping in neutral Cyprus as previously indicated.

Unusual visitor at Press-Record

Because the Press-Record composing room is being remodeled, it was not surprising that a curious visitor might appear at 4:50 p.m. Tuesday to try to view the progress. But his arrival was not welcomed; he was a four-footing blacksnake.

Operating a tape punching machine to prepare type images for today's issue, Printer Al Edwards began noticing something moving in front of the machine. When he looked up, he discovered the snake curled between a radiator pipe and a door handle, about three feet from him.

Another member of the composing room staff seized upon the closest weapon a flyswatter, knocked the snake from his perch and disposed of the visitor. The snake apparently had crawled under an interior door after gaining access to the building during construction work.

'SHOW ME' MUSICAL AT SOUTH HIGH THIS WEEK
Thirty-five singers of Young Life will present 24 new songs in a "different" kind of religious musical, "Show Me," at the Granite City High School South auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Tickets costing 75 cents each may be obtained at local business places or by calling 677-3490. All the soloists in the production are from Granite City. Dan Albrecht of First Assembly of God is directing the contemporary show.

Services

Presbyterian Church, St. John United Church of Christ, Madison United Presbyterian, First United Methodist of Madison and Niedringhaus United Methodist.

In addition to the singing, the host pastor will serve as Liturgist and lay persons representing the participating churches will bring personal testimonies of thanks, the Rev. Bogue explained. Brief closing meditations will be offered by other churchmen, he added.

The public is cordially invited to attend either service, the Rev. Bogue said today. Participants also are being asked to bring canned goods to the services to be used by the Salvation Army, Catholic Charities, and Protestant Welfare for Christmas baskets for needy families.

One half of the offering taken both thanksgiving programs will be contributed to the same Yuletide charitable endeavor, the minister advised. The ecumenical services present a unique opportunity for the people of the community to celebrate their joy and thanksgiving for life while helping others know a greater joy for their own life through their gifts, one local minister commented.

Chouteau advances land purchase

Plans for construction of a new Chouteau Township hall and highway department garage moved another step forward Monday night as the town board of auditors accepted the plat and deed for the proposed site and submitted the documents to the board's attorney before signing.

The site of slightly less than seven acres of land north of Interstate 270 on the access road behind the Midwest Motel is to be purchased from Carroll Tingley for $16,025, if the attorney approves signing of the contract. The board also agreed to call a special meeting in the near future to meet with John Rapp of Filipo Associates of Alton, architect for the proposed building, to discuss costs of different types of buildings. The township has set aside $50,000 from federal revenue sharing to pay for the land and the building. The former highway department garage was severely damaged during spring flooding on Chouteau Island.

Walter Sparks, township supervisor, told the board that reports were in error which indicated planning for the proposed four township sewer had been completed. He said that the township were assured during a recent meeting with state officials in Carbondale that their plan for final planning grants would be considered. The board approved a $775 bill from R. C. Schietel & Co. of Alton, auditors, for the recently completed audit of township funds.

State police chiefs to install Veizer

Ronald J. Veizer, Granite City chief of police, will be installed as president of the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police at its annual convention in January.

Installation ceremonies will take place during the 1974 conference, scheduled to start Jan. 26 and continue through Jan. 28, at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn, St. Louis.

The convention in January marks the first time the chiefs' association has convened in proximity to downtown Illinois for many years, Veizer said.

About 500 persons are expected to attend the three-day meeting, including 350 voting delegates from police departments throughout the state.

Local city officials and community leaders will be invited to attend the Jan. 26 banquet at which Illinois Lt. Gov. Neil F. Hartigan is the scheduled speaker.

Gov. Christopher "Kit" Bond of Missouri and St. Louis Mayor

John Poelker also will be among those invited to take part in the program.

The 1974 convention will be officially hosted by the Southern Illinois Police Chiefs Association.

Installed with Chief Veizer will be Merle Justus, Cahokia police chief, as third vice-president.

Prior to his election as president in July, Chief Veizer served as first vice-president of the state group. He will succeed Chief Clarence Erickson of Niles to the top post.

Veizer is a past president of the Southern Illinois Police Chiefs Association.

Seminars, business meetings and workshops will occupy the police chiefs during the annual conference. Hospitality suites and entertainment also are planned, Chief Veizer said.

Reservations plans to enable interested citizens to attend the installation dinner will be announced at a later date, the police officer added.

Higher food allotments

Food stamp coupon allotments will increase Jan. 1 for all participants in the food stamp program in the 48 contiguous states and the District of Columbia.

The Food Stamp Act, as amended by the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973, requires that coupon allotments be adjusted semiannually to reflect changes in the prices of food as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The allotment increases are based on the cost of the U.S. Department of Agriculture economy food plan as it is computed from food prices.

The cost of the economy food plan through Aug. 31 was $141.60 for a family of four with school children. Accordingly, USDA will raise the value of the coupon allotment from $116 to $142 for a family of four and make appropriate adjustments for other household sizes.

The maximum income eligibility standards are increased to the level at which the new coupon allotments equal 30 percent of income for all household sizes, except the one-person household.

The one-person standard retains the higher poverty income cutoff. The maximum income standard for the four-person household will increase from $387 to $473.

Cancel meeting on Dobrey

A meeting scheduled Tuesday between John Bennett, acting director of the Illinois Division of Waterways, and members of an East Side Levee and Sanitary District committee concerning the Dobrey Slough drainage program was cancelled pending a further study of the project plans by levee board trustees.

The meeting, which had been scheduled at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in Springfield, was arranged after Granite City council members proposed that the levee district replace the state waterways division in building the Dobrey drainage line, using money appropriated by the state to finance construction.

The state has called bids three times on a plan to install a drainage line that would relieve the Dobrey area during heavy rains. On one occasion no bids were received and on the other two bid calls, construction offers were far in excess of state cost estimates.

Norman Past dies at 63

Norman Kruse Past, 63, of 2300 Missouri Ave., a retired chauffeur, was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday.

He was working in his yard when he became ill and was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Born in St. Louis, Mr. Past resided in Granite City 38 years. He was employed for 38 years for Texaco Inc., St. Louis, prior to his retirement.

Army base here to stay and likely to grow in population and employment

When it was announced several years ago that the Granite City Army Depot would be deactivated, there was real concern. During World War II it had provided employment for as many as 5,000 people, and for many years it was a busy center of needed work related to storage, maintenance and repair of a wide assortment of military and governmental equipment.

Operations had not involved such a large scale of activity during the 1960s. But the local base nevertheless contributed much to the economic well being of this area and region, along with helping Uncle Sam meet its commitments at home and abroad.

Because it appeared that a huge vacuum would be created, with superbly constructed facilities allowed to suffer idleness and deterioration, hopes arose that the base could be quickly declared surplus and converted to some private use of considerable scope and volume.

What transpired followed a much different script than that visualized in the early 1970s. Total inactivation never did take place, due to the need to continue providing support services to the hundreds of active-duty military personnel and thousands of retirees in this metropolitan region.

Under the skilled guidance of Col. Donald Elmore, commanding officer, and other Department of Defense leaders and officers, valid functions have been added to the Granite City Installation's responsibilities. These have achieved substantial savings for the federal government, bringing about increased efficiency through the coordination of efforts formerly fragmented among several dozen U.S. services, agencies, departments and bureaus.

While some elements of the current ten-year plan still await final authorization, virtually all areas of the 952-acre base are being put to constructive use. And the prospects for population and job growth appear to be bright.

As Col. Elmore has summarized, the Army base is here to stay. And, as has been true throughout its 31-year history, it is a welcome and highly regarded segment of Madison County and Southwestern Illinois.

Ability to top United Way goal is a morale booster for Quad-City area

Announcement yesterday that the basic United Way goal had been topped is refreshing news for the 18 community service agencies whose 1974 operating costs will be partly financed from the joint campaign.

The $400,000 objective, surpassed at the final report luncheon, will permit all allocations to be made as scheduled. The agencies also will share in the additional funds, on the basis of verified needs.

While there will be continuing study of ways to improve agencies, efficiency and effectiveness, Tri-Cities Area United Way members and citizens became convinced this year that any "fat" had long ago been squeezed out of the health, welfare, activity and character-building programs.

It was decided to seek not only the $400,000 basic goal, more than had ever before been raised, but also additional revenue.

This has now been accomplished, and a solid start can be made toward restoring the fiscal solvency which had become only a distant memory for a number of the agencies.

Aside from the specific good that the United Way dollars can perform, the success of the annual drive is helpful from the standpoint of community confidence — Quad-City's image of themselves, their neighbors and the environment in which they live or work.

After the over-the-top 1966 campaign conducted in the fall of 1965, seven consecutive United drives had fallen below the goals that had been set. With two plant closings complicating the outlook, there was a sharp drop in total contributions a year ago.

Now that trend has been reversed. And some of the breakthroughs of this fall provide a solid base for planning the next fund solicitation a year from now.

This community is very much alive and well — responding to present needs and building for the future.

Referral service can be useful to residents who lack a family doctor

Quad-City medical doctors' expressed willingness to cooperate in establishing a medical referral service is a highly encouraging development.

While there is a shortage of general practice physicians here and in many parts of the nation, many local doctors are able and willing to accept new patients. The problem has been pairing up such doctors with those who are new to this community or for other reasons lack a regular family physician.

As outlined at a breakfast meeting attended by ten Quad-City doctors as well as by dozens of laymen, it will be feasible to prepare a list of doctors who sign forms signifying their readiness to accept additional patients.

The public can then call a telephone number yet to be announced, and the secretary who answers will read the list. St. Elizabeth Hospital has indicated it will cooperate in relaying such information to citizens who call, once the service has been started.

Availability of medical care is an important asset. The proposed referral service can be of immense value to many people, and there is widespread hope that it can be launched soon.

DEEPLY DISTRESSED BY ABORTION CLINIC PLAN

To the Editor:
Our city is now going to be singularly honored with an outpatient surgical clinic. I hope every resident of our city read the informative article in the Nov. 8 Press-Record.

The type of surgery to be done is plastic surgery, removal of growths, breast biopsies and related female surgery including abortions.

I wonder if the good of our community will be served by having this established here. I also wonder why this article didn't make the front page with headlines screaming, "Abortion Clinic."

Other new businesses or services are usually accorded this courtesy. Was our local paper a little embarrassed perhaps by this new type of service to be offered? Out-patient surgical center is much too nice a name.

Will we be treated to pictures of the new owner cutting the ribbon on opening day with our city fathers dancing attendance? In weeks to come, may we please see the happy smiles of satisfied customers?

What of the tiny, immature corpses? I know we will never hear their soft voices murmur, "Today my mommy killed me."

If all this is in store for the Granite City of the future, I think I'll move.

MRS. SHARON LOFTUS
WANTS CITY TO OPPOSE ABORTION ON DEMAND
To the Editor:

Isn't it interesting that several weeks ago your paper carried the news that our City Council passed an ordinance placing restrictions on massage parlors, of which we have none, while in last Thursday's paper you announced that an abortion clinic was about to open in town?

I and many of my acquaintances are trying to figure out what is happening to our fair city.

Now that we have determined what to do with what which does not exist, why don't we try to figure out what to do with what which does exist? In case you haven't heard, we've got a real moral problem on our hands, "right here in River City," that's Granite City, I mean.

Regarding the abortion clinic, let us take a case in point—New York City, which has led the nation in such things (not Phoenix as an article tried to point out).

I cite the pamphlet, "A Need Fulfilled," published by the Abortion Information Agency, Inc., an agency dedicated to the task of helping women secure an abortion in that area. Their services include counseling, information and referral.

They say, "For safety, the A.I.A. believes that an abortion, like any other significant surgical procedure, should be performed in a hospital. Consequently, A.I.A. has found that the so-called free-standing private outpatient clinics have an unacceptably high rate of complications (both major and minor)."

"Indeed, city and state health agencies have closed down a number of these clinics and are investigating others... A point often overlooked is that, in the case of a routine D & C procedure (where a pregnancy is not involved) no physician would think of performing the operation anywhere except in a hospital operating room. A.I.A. sees no reason for less precaution in the case of an abortion."

If St. Elizabeth Hospital is anti-abortion, certainly there must be other hospitals within a reasonable distance for those who want to participate in such acts of murder. But let's not allow the "slaughter of the innocents" right here in our town and applaud it without doing anything.

BURGULARY SOLVED QUICKLY BY POLICE

To the Editor:
Last Wednesday (Nov. 7) my home was broken into and burglarized and was reported to the police late Wednesday evening.

Thanks to an alert neighbor and the efficiency of our police department, they had arrested the four thieves and had recovered most of my loss before 2 a.m. Thursday.

Detective Ira Smith, Lt. Everett Kelly and Patrolman John Apperson were outstanding in their work, and were more than kind and considerate to me.

I cannot praise these men too highly. God bless our police department.

Driver tests every 4 years and car inspections to be required

The U.S. Department of Transportation has given Gov. Dan Walker four deadlines to bring the state's long-range highway safety plans up to the level required for federal funding.

Illinois was one of 45 states DOT found deficient in planning through fiscal 1977. Only Delaware, Florida, Idaho and Ohio have had their plans approved through that period.

DOT is empowered under the Highway Safety Act of 1966 to withhold all of a state's highway safety funds and 10 per cent of its highway construction funds if deadlines are not met.

The delinquent states were notified in letters between March and June 1973 DOT has not publicly disclosed the letters or their contents, but their contents have been learned.

This is the first time the U.S. has given the states specific deadlines for upgrading plans to acceptable levels.

In a letter to Walker, DOT detailed four deficiencies in the comprehensive plan of current and proposed highway safety activities for fiscal years 1975-77, submitted by Illinois under the Act of 1966.

The letter was signed by James E. Wilson, associate administrator for traffic safety programs, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, and Gerald D. Love, Region 5 federal highway administrator.

Wilson and Love said that, as a result of an "in-depth review" of the Illinois plan, it was approved only for fiscal 1974. Continued approval for fiscal 1975 and subsequent years is contingent on:

1. A revision by March 1, 1974, of an acceptable revised plan for programs under the Federal Highway Act.

2. Establishment by Jan. 1, 1974, of a "fully functioning driver license advisory board."

3. Implementation by June 30, 1975, of a periodic inspection program for all classes of motor vehicles. In lieu of this, Illinois must have an approved pilot or demonstration program.

4. Operation within one year of the close of the 1975 legislative session of a periodic re-examination program to include knowledge as well as vision testing at least once every four years.

"There are several other areas in your comprehensive plan, which need further modification and strengthening," the federal officials cautioned the governor, noting that his highway safety representative, Langhorne Bond, had been given the details.

They said that while the "Illinois plan" shows progress toward meeting fiscal 1974 standards, "it does not propose adequate progress" for the rest of the period covered by the plan "and it is not sufficiently responsive to the FHWA national emphasis program."

They also said they were "aware" that the state's highway agencies may be caught in

Abundant source of energy—coal

(By Prof. Harry Kircher, who specializes in conservation of resources in the SIUE Department of Earth Sciences and Planning. He is co-author of the text, "Our National Resources," now in its third edition.)

DR. HARRY KIRCHER

One of the questions my students often ask these days is "Wasn't the energy crisis really 'manufactured' by the big oil companies?"

My reply is that the economic history of recent years does not bear out this assumption. Oil company actions have been in response to government policies, both of the present and prior administrations intended to hold down prices and save reserves. It is a moot question whether the policies were justifiable but they did shape domestic production patterns. They did make it more profitable to produce or buy oil abroad than to drill wells and build refineries here. Mistakes may have been made all around, but clearly the emergency was not contrived by either the oil companies or the government.

The basic reason for our current energy crisis goes beyond government and private corporation differences over petroleum policy. The fact is that we appear to have bet our energy research and development dollars on the wrong horsepower. We have concentrated national research priorities on development of nuclear fission. Meanwhile we have, by comparison, neglected our most abundant source of energy—coal.

Coal reserves within our national boundaries are even the most conservative estimates will last hundreds of years. Furthermore, they are readily available at economical costs. By contrast, oil reserves are more costly to obtain domestically, and we are dependent upon foreign supplies. Nuclear energy, through fission, the current process, has few mineral reserve problems, but has serious security risks. Other promising sources of clean power, such as nuclear fusion and geothermal energy are still in the developmental stage.

Why has coal been put on the back burner by development and research?

There are two major reasons. First, coal doesn't blow up cities! Our major effort, nuclear fission development, was spurred by its military potential. Second, coal mining has been a notoriously poor husbandman of our other earth resources. The exploitation of no other mineral has resulted in so much ravaged land or polluted air.

Today, however, there is no need to repeat the disastrous abuses of the past in coal mining and burning. Strip mined land can be reclaimed to productive use as experiments have demonstrated, and the costs of reclamation are bearable, adding only slightly to the cost of the coal.

Under our private enterprise system of production, there is only one way to be sure that satisfactory reclamation will be carried out. We must establish and enforce national standards. Then, one producer cannot gain an unfair market advantage over another by saving on reclamation. Fortunately, the Congress is considering such legislation at the present time.

Strip mining should be absolutely prohibited in certain areas, such as prime agricultural land and land with steep slopes. Mining legislation will need to be coordinated with land use policy legislation, which is also now in Congress.

The elimination of air pollution from the combustion of coal has proven difficult. Present processes have not been successful enough in removing wastes, or in the recovery and use of heat, gases and particulate matter, to help offset filtering costs. While more progress is needed, it appears that if available devices were in general use, air pollution from coal burning could be reduced and cost increases held down sufficiently to be tolerable during the transition period to better controls or other fuels.

There appears to be no way to alleviate the present energy crisis immediately or in the near future by increasing the productivity of fuels in the U.S., and little likelihood of obtaining substantially larger supplies from abroad. Any present relief will have to come from less waste of energy and cuts in production.

There is a way to help assure that an energy crisis does not recur.

On the consumption side, we must continue to progress in conserving energy. On the production side, we should adopt an accelerated policy of coal research and development. Such a policy would anchor our energy resource base to a reliable source of proven abundance within our own national boundaries. It would lessen our dependence on oil and natural gas and help hold down prices by affording more competition between fuels. We would be in a better bargaining position to obtain the oil we need from abroad. Without the threat of an inbred nuclear disaster, we would gain time to develop other promising sources of power.

It is time to begin planning for that day when we can tap directly and on a massive scale the radiant energy of the sun, the ultimate answer to the need for clean, unlimited power.

New insurance rating if six firemen added

It is believed the Granite City fire insurance rating could be improved from Class 6 to Class 5 if six firemen are added to the 42-man department.

Fire Chief Donald Parente told Granite City Rotarians Tuesday.

The change would cost additional tax funds but would reduce insurance rates by $7 a year on a $15,000 home, the club was told.

The department now has five pumper trucks, an aerial truck and a rescue truck; several are new and none are older than nine years. Chief Parente related.

The said water pressure is adequate throughout the fire district but that the Nameoki Road fire station needs to be relocated due to increasing traffic congestion there.

Of 68 fire calls in 1972, loss to buildings was $144,000 and loss to contents $102,000. There was $18,000 damage in 97 auto fires.

The chief outlined Christmas season fire safety rules and ways of coping with overheated self-cleaning ovens. He said fire service is being provided temporarily to the Benjamin Addition west of Highway Three but that the area will need to develop a plan of some type to pay for fire protection. He was introduced by City Clerk Robert Stevens.

It was announced that the Granite City fire district, net about $2,600 each for the two sponsors, the Granite City Optimist and Rotary clubs.

SECOND ANNUAL SWIM-Y-THON plans are announced as poster is put up at YMCA by Michael Tharp, left, Y program director, and Walter Stauffer, chairman of the Swim-Y-thon committee. Specific dates for the event—planned during the Christmas holiday season—will be announced later, Stauffer said.

David Partney petitions for state representative

Noting that Leland Kennedy may not seek re-election, David Partney, 2521 Delmar Ave., Granite City, this week said he may be a candidate. Partney ran unsuccessfully for the same office four years ago, and numerous supporters of the past feel he should seek election at this time, the announcement said.

"The feeling is strong that an independent Democrat would be much more favored than old political faces," Partney said.

"Partney, as his father, former mayor of Granite City, is a conservative Democrat. When Mayor Partney departed office he left the city, according to reports, $1,400,000 in the black.

"That fund is now nearly depleted in a matter of a few short months. David Partney feels that gross and negligent spending of taxes—many unnecessary taxes, and taxes caused by conditions created for political expediency—are drawing millions of dollars from already overburdened taxpayers.

"Partney is a pro-labor business executive and possesses a rare combination of talents to promote efficiency coupled with production.

"He serves as general manager of Granite Sheet Metal Works, Inc., and understands through the value of a dollar, something overlooked by too many professional politicians.

"We need a return to faith in our officials and an about-face in a representative—being a representative and not a boss of the people by whom he is elected.

"Let's put government of the people and by the people back into force or America as a whole could go down in ashes.

"We can and must take more interest in economy and honesty; and I feel I can not only offer it, but guarantee this type of political conduct.

"However, I must of necessity," he guaranteed support of the people in advance of filing of my petitions, which are now in circulation, so that I would honestly feel that people at large truly have had enough and would actively support physically and financially such a platform," David Partney concluded.

Miss Jennie Marie Duncan and Darrell G. Orender exchanged wedding vows Nov. 7, at an evening ceremony performed by the Rev. Prosper Carl in the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orender, 207 Paradise Lane, Mitchell.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Margaret M. Duncan, 7774 Carolyn Drive, and Dale C. Duncan, 2000 Ohio Ave.

Attending the couple were Miss Cindy Duncan, a sister of the bride, as maid of honor and Dewayne Orender, the groom's brother, as best man.

A reception was held for the immediate families following the ceremony at the Orender residence.

Social Security benefit increase urged by Price

Congressman Melvin Price of this district has spoken in Congress in favor of amending the debt ceiling bill to provide for a 7 per cent increase in Social Security benefits to be effective Jan. 1, 1974, and to be reflected in checks mailed Feb. 1, 1974.

"The amendment would provide a much needed cost-of-living increase to over 26 million people," said Rep. Price.

"The well-being of our senior citizens is one of our most urgent priorities," said the congressman. "It must not fall victim to the often dilatory effects of partisan politics."

Price pointed out that Congress has approved a 5.9 per cent increase in Social Security, but delayed it for a year to avoid an anticipated Presidential veto.

He is sponsoring legislation to bring that increase into effect immediately.

In other floor remarks, Price urged his colleagues to override President Nixon's veto of the War Powers Resolution. The override limits the President's authority to send U.S. troops into combat without Congressional approval.

"Recent events make it abundantly clear that a President can arrogantly abuse executive power," said Price. "We cannot afford to have this kind of impetuous exercise of power when it comes to a decision committing United States forces to combat."

Price said the resolution provides clearcut guidelines consistent with the Constitution and "restores balance to the partnership between the Congress and the Executive in national security affairs."

"By overriding the President's veto," concluded Rep. Price, "we are helping restore the people's confidence in their government."

Price has received a response to his inquiry to the Interstate Commerce Commission concerning a shortage of railroad freight cars and its effect on farmers.

Kenneth Tuggle, acting chairman of the ICC, told Rep. Price that the commission has now taken action in several different ways in an effort to obtain maximum utilization and equitable distribution of the existing freight car fleet.

The ICC has issued a service order which requires expeditious handling of all traffic by the railroad industry. Numerous other orders are aimed at alleviating the shortage, which holds up shipment of grain and other crops that in turn result in heightened demand and higher prices.

Voter cards for disabled

The Illinois State Bar Association has pointed out that under new Illinois statutes now in effect, permanently disabled voters will no longer have to present a doctor's affidavit each time they wish to vote by absentee ballot, and will also benefit in the areas of better opportunity and discrimination.

The statute dealing with absentee voting provides for issuance of disabled voter identification cards, good for five years.

Election officials will record the identification number on the card upon issuance, so that they will later be able to verify an affidavit each time.

State Bar officials also report that traveling burdens experienced by the handicapped are dealt with in new Illinois laws.

One provides for the issuance of special license plates for handicapped drivers, so that other drivers can easily recognize cars driven by handicapped persons.

Another requires the inclusion of street crossing wheelchair ramps on any new or reconstructed corner curb in business, commercial or industrial areas.

Amtmann-Kowalski nuptials at St. Elizabeth Church

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church was the scene of the afternoon wedding on Nov. 10 of Miss Mary Lou Kowalski, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kowalski, 2220 Bern Ave., and Alan J. Amtmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Amtmann, 2204 Glen Drive.

Preceding the ceremony, Angie Brown sang "O Perfect Love," "On This Day," "Ave Maria" and The Lord's Prayer. She was accompanied at the organ by Dan Veizer.

The Rev. Lawrence Mattingly heard the couple exchange nuptial vows at 1:30 p.m.

Mr. Kowalski escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. She chose a full length gown of satin and heavy tulle, accented with white lace. Her bouquet was an arrangement of white roses centered with an orchid. Serving as her attendants were Patricia Egan, Gertie Kowalski, a sister of the bride, Susan Meirink, a cousin of the bride, Cheryl Haynes and Kathy Amtmann, the groom's sister.

The honor attendant wore a colonial style dress made of floral printed orchid tulle, accented with a velvet bow. The bridesmaids chose identical styled frocks in blue. Each girl wore a garland of fresh flowers in her hair and held a nosegay of multi-colored flowers.

Attending the groom as best man was Billy Gavily, Bobbie Yates, Tony Vitale, John Meirink, Steve Rubczak and Michael Gula, the bride's uncle, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Rita Ann Gula, a cousin of the bride and Christine Amtmann, the groom's sister, were flower girls.

They were dressed in blue velvet frocks accented with a white bow at the necklines and carried baskets of flower petals. The bride's mother, Mrs. Kowalski, was attired in an aqua dress and matching accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Amtmann, selected a lavender gown complemented with accessories in the same shade. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Guests were received by the bride couple at a reception held at Polish Hall in Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Amtmann, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner in their home. The bride attended St. Teresa Academy in East St. Louis, Granite City High School and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is employed as a cashier at the Do It Yourself Home Center, Highway 111 and State Route 35.

Her husband is a graduate of Assumption High School, East St. Louis, and works at Granite City Roofing and Siding on Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach.

Out-of-town guests were Tony, Beverly and Eric Vitale of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Venice may cut street lights along Broadway

A proposal that every other street light along Broadway in Venice be cut off during night hours was advanced to the Venice City Council Tuesday night as an energy conservation measure.

The suggestion was made by Mayor John E. Lee who also proposed that City Clerk William "Mike" Ebersold write to all Venice business firms and industries, requesting that temperatures be reduced in stores and plants to save fuel. The council concurred in both suggestions.

Alderman Lloyd Patterson, chairman of the council's light committee, said he would confer with Illinois Power Co. engineers as to whether half of the Broadway lights could be shut off while the other half of the system is in operation. The plan would not apply to street lighting in residential sections of the city.

Mayor Lee Tuesday night appointed William Dumas, as assistant Venice fire chief, as president of the Venice Police Pension Board following the resignation of Harold Koelker from that post. Other board members are John Pic and Police Officers Joseph Meehan and Farris Smith.

The council approved the transfer of $217,400 from the general fund to the working cash fund as repayment of advances made May 15 to pay operating costs until tax funds became available.

The council also approved a repayment from the general fund to the working cash fund in the amount of $43,000 that was advanced June 27, 1972. Building permits were approved for a carport at the home of George E. Lewis, 1228 Market St., to cost $300; a room addition at the home of Woodrow Fortson, 535 Garner Road, $1,500, and a mobile home at 1218 Douglas Ave., to cost $4,000.

The council delayed action from its previous meeting on application for the mobile home pending inspection of the unit by the building inspector to determine if it was in suitable condition.

Civil Defense Director Benjamin Honorable reported that he received verbal confirmation that a $35,000 allocation will be received soon from the Office of Emergency Preparedness to help with sewer repair costs. The city has received $10,000.

MRS. ELSIE M. STAGGS, 2404 E. 24th St., has received a Department of Army certificate commending her sustained superior job performance and a DA Special Act Award. Mrs. Staggs is employed by the Procurement Division of Headquarters and Installation Support Activity at Granite City.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT James Wallace, 51, of 2117 Ames Ave., suffered minor injuries when his car and the auto of Sandra Harper, 2569 Ivy Lane, collided at 27th Street and Madison Ave. at 9:20 a.m. Tuesday.

Homecoming at McKendree

A parade at 10 a.m. will kick off traditional McKendree College homecoming activities Saturday.

That afternoon, the McKendree College Bearcats will play their homecoming basketball game against Arkansas Baptist College. A reception for alumni, students and faculty will take place before the game in the Bearcat Booster Den in the gymnasium. Halftime activities will include presentation of the queen candidates and court, and awarding of trophies and prizes for parade floats.

The homecoming queen will be crowned at a dance at the Catholic Knights and Ladies of Illinois Hall in Belleville Saturday night. Other homecoming activities on the 145-year-old Lebanon campus will include open house in the residence halls, movies and a "traveling rock and roll revival" Friday night.

STEAL SCOUT RECEIPTS A burglar stole $322 in cash, the receipts of Girl Scout cookie sales, from the home of Fay Wentz, 2606 E. 25th St. It was reported at 2:20 p.m. Tuesday. The rear door of the house was forced.

NEW FIRE PUMPER with a pumping capacity of 1,500 gallons per minute, was placed in service this week at the No. 1 fire station. The truck was delivered within three weeks of the city's order with Seagraves Co. of Clintonville, Wis. It cost the city $47,800 and is the largest of five pumpers now in service. Mayor Paul Schuler, left, checks over the new equipment. Fire Chief Don Parente is at right.

New price stickers needed

Because of recent changes in the Cost of Living Council's Phase IV petroleum regulations, all gasoline and diesel fuel retailers must obtain new ceiling price stickers for each pump or grade of petroleum sold, Leon C. Green, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said Wednesday.

The new stickers must be posted on pumps by 11:59 p.m., Nov. 21.

New stickers and instructions-computation forms may be picked up at the nearest Internal Revenue Service office.

Written requests for stickers should be made only to Internal Revenue Service, Stabilization Division, P. O. Box 1468, Springfield, Ill. 62706; or telephone (217) 525-4362. Retailers who call or write for stickers should specify how many they will need.

The new sticker should be posted on each pump in a prominent position where it easily can be seen by the customer. The old stickers should then be removed. Under revised Cost of Living Council rules, effective Nov. 1, gasoline and diesel fuel retailers are permitted to increase their May 15, 1973, selling price to reflect, on a dollar-for-dollar pass-through basis, their increased petroleum costs.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Page 18 Thurs., Nov. 15, 1973

This can be done no more than once a month. Whenever an adjustment is made to the maximum permissible price, each retailer must adjust his posted price, Green said. On the reverse side of the posting instruction sheet is a form which dealers must use to compute their ceiling prices, Green said. This sheet, like those previously used, must be retained at service stations for IRS inspection to determine compliance with the new regulations.

GC woman plans pottery display

Mrs. Barbara Premier Thoeke of Granite City will present a month-long pottery and small sculpture exhibit at St. Louis University's Busch Memorial Center, Grand and Laclede, beginning today and continuing through Dec. 15. The items to be displayed, which she creates in her home, have been shown at several area colleges and universities during the past year. They will be offered for sale at the close of the exhibition, which is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

Decline in births noted here

The number of births in the Quad-City area during the first 10 months of 1973 has declined from that of the same period last year, according to a vital statistics report released this week by Robert W. Stevens, clerk of Granite City. The report showed 52 births here in October, bringing the total for the first 10 months of the year to 598. In the same period of 1972, 873 births were recorded here. There were 27 deaths reported last month bringing the total for the year, through October, to 390. In the same period last year, 334 deaths were reported. One fetal death occurred here in October, increasing this year's total to 12, an increase from the seven in the same period of 1972. The total for the first 10 months exceeds the 10 fetal deaths here during all of last year.

Stevenson plan to develop oil, gas

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., joined by two other Democratic co-sponsors, has introduced a bill to create a Federal Oil and Gas Corporation to develop deposits primarily on public lands. The bill offered by Stevenson, Walter Mondale of Minnesota and Frank Moss of Utah would give the corporation the power to acquire development rights on private land as well.

The three senators said in a news conference that the Stevenson bill is not a "forerunner" for nationalization of the U.S. oil industry.

Rather, Stevenson said, it is designed as a "spur, a yardstick, an incentive" to the free enterprise system "to develop vast public resources for the benefit of the public" faster than other energy resources can be developed.

He underscored the energy crisis and looming shortages with the onset of winter, and termed the condition "ominous."

Stevenson said 50 to 75 per cent of the nation's oil and gas reserves lie under federal lands and are untapped public resources.

"Only about two per cent of the federal lands under which oil and gas may be found have been leased for exploratory and developmental purposes to private oil and gas companies," he said, adding that his bill would open up this "shut-in" reserve.

Campus darker, cooler

SIUE is seeking to reduce the consumption of energy by at least seven per cent, according to Charles N. Moorleghen, assistant vice-president for business affairs.

Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of SIUE, announced Nov. 8 that the local campus would conform with the requests of Pres. Richard Nixon and Gov. Daniel Walker to conserve energy by restricting speeds of university vehicles to 50 miles per hour and adjusting thermostats in university buildings to lower temperatures.

Moorleghen said several experimental steps were taken to reduce temperatures in university buildings over the weekend. The experiments were successful, and on Monday he announced formal policies which are being adopted to achieve the seven per cent reduction.

In addition to lowering room thermostats to 68 degrees, energy will be saved by cutting fresh air intake from 25 per cent to 10 per cent, reducing circulating fan speeds 10 per cent, and switching to the "winter-night" cycle on a daily basis in most central core buildings on the campus.

Data processing and science laboratories, where stable temperatures are necessary, will be exempt from the winter-night cycle plan, which automatically reduces heating services to the central buildings from 10 p.m. to 6:30 a.m. New thermostats with automatic controls are being installed in the tract houses, Wagner complex and residences on the Alton campus to reduce temperatures to 50 degrees at night and 68 degrees during the day.

Moorleghen also said lighting is being reduced wherever possible. Half of all exterior lights will be turned off at 11 p.m.

Parking lot lights on the recreation peninsula will be dark during the winter. Ways are being studied to reduce lighting in hallways, and an effort will be made to turn off nearly all interior lights at night. Most decorative lighting is being eliminated.

Other steps being taken to conserve energy include running emergency generators once every three weeks rather than every week, and tempering the fumehood exhaust from the Science Building to 50 degrees instead of 70 degrees. Moorleghen said the building has 32 fumehood exhausts, moving approximately 43 million cubic feet of air a day. The savings in energy required are expected to be substantial, he added.

Members convened at the home of Mrs. Carol Tritschuh, 2021 Pontoon Road. Mrs. Mary Lou Worthen, president, was in charge.

Warm winter coats for high-school-age students are being collected by the club for distribution through the Nearly New Clothing Center, a project of Quad-City Church Women

The public is being invited to join in the project with donors asked to call Mrs. Grimm, at 878-0385, for pickup service, or deliver the garments to the clothing center, now located in the Salvation Army building, 19th Street and Grand Avenue.

A $50 donation also was voted by the club to purchase new shoes for distribution at the center. Mrs. Grimm also announced that six children have been referred to doctors to be fitted with eye glasses under the club's auspices.

Mrs. Rena James was asked

Nagle meets with board

The newest appointment to the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees attended his first meeting Nov. 8 in Carbondale.

James J. Nagle, 28, was welcomed to the board's monthly meeting by board Chairman Ivan A. Elliott Jr., of Carbondale. Elliott said he hopes the Illinois Senate acts quickly to confirm Nagle's appointment.

Also present was the first of two student representatives to the board, Don Hastings, sophomore in business administration at SIUC. A representative is expected to be chosen by students on the Carbondale campus within a month.

Appointed by Gov. Dan Walker to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Dr. Earl E. Walker of Harrisburg, Nagle is a 1969 graduate of SIUC with a master's degree in English. He is a teacher at Danville Junior College.

Skit highlights meeting of Future Secretaries

Robin Scarborough starred in a secretarial skit entitled "The Unpolished Gem" at the first meeting of the Granite City High School Future Secretaries Association chapter at GCHS-South cafeteria.

She portrayed a gum-chewing, uneducated and giggling applicant for a job who wisely took the advice of the personnel director and went to a secretarial school for two years.

When she reapplied to the same personnel director two years later, as a polished secretarial applicant, the change was so great that she was unrecognized, but she immediately got the job. Virginia Arnold was the personnel director, and Kathy Stacey, her receptionist.

Students at the secretarial school included Barb Siebert, Florence Holten, Nancy Vunovic and Sharon Mang. The role of instructor at the school was played by Diane Daugherty, and Jill Scarborough served as narrator.

"The Unpolished Gem" was presented before 26 members of the Alpha Ilii FSA Chapter, Roxana and Wood River High Schools, who were accompanied by their advisor, Mrs. June Moselle, CFS.

Miss Lucille Aramowicz, faculty advisor for the GCHS FSA Chapter, spoke to the group, as did Mrs. Charlie Vunovic, FSA Chairman, Tri-Cities Chapter. Also present from the Tri-Cities Chapter was Mrs. Joyce Savich and her daughter, Kelly.

A new practice of serving refreshments at the beginning of the evening, prior to the meeting, instead of after the meeting, was inaugurated and met with enthusiasm. The practice will be continued and members were urged to attend prior to the 7:30 p.m. meeting time so they can participate in refreshments.

President Sharon Mang

presided and asked for reports from Recording Secretary Diane Daugherty, Treasurer Pat Stanton, and committee chairmen Nancy Vunovic, refreshments, and Diane Daugherty, civic.

The civic committee will soon contact the members to advise them of details for the party to be held at the Madison County Sheltered Care Home in Edwardsville on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 15.

It will be the responsibility of the FSA members to meet and fill stockings for the residents which will be given out the afternoon of the party. They are invited to attend the party and help with distribution of gifts and refreshments.

FSA members at GCHS-South soon will receive a supply of ball point pens which they will sell for 25 cents each as a money-raising project. A similar project has just been concluded at GCHS-North.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 4, in the cafeteria at GCHS-North. The program will present a panel of secretaries from various fields, and a court reporter. Each individual will describe her job duties, and then answer questions from the audience. Members were reminded that missing three meetings means automatic loss of membership.

4-H clubs cited for achievements

By MISS JANETTE MUELLER

Home Economics Adviser
The annual Madison County 4-H Achievement Night was held at the Farm Bureau Auditorium during the weekend. Approximately 400 members, parents, leaders and friends attended.

Mrs. Orlan Hosto, home economics 4-H chairman, New Douglas, and Joseph Geiger, agriculture 4-H chairman, Highland, presented awards to members for outstanding project work.

The 40 awards presented to 188 4-H'ers in the form of pins, medals and certificates are provided by national and state donors who support the 4-H program.

Donna Falconier, Highland, of the Good Producers Club won the state achievement award. She will be sent to the National 4-H Club Congress. This week-long conference, held in Chicago, is the highest award a 4-H'er may receive.

A trip to the national junior horticulture convention was awarded to Dick Givlio, East Alton. He received a red ribbon for his horticultural speech which he presented at national competition in Oklahoma City. The convention was held Nov. 25.

Craig Ursprung, Edwardsville, will represent Madison County at the Illinois Farm Electrification Council Conference through tomorrow.

A National 4-H Dairy Conference award trip was made by Debra Stille, Alhambra. The conference in Madison, Wis., was held in October.

One other special award was presented to Lois Givlio, Edwardsville. She was given a $50 health bond for her work in this area. The award was presented by John O'Dell, director of the Illinois Health Association.

Five 4-H'ers received the Key Club Award during the weekend. The key is the highest possible state recognition. The 4-H'ers were: Lois Givlio and Portia Potter, both from Edwardsville and members of the Liberty Belles Club; Yvonne Meier, Troy, of the Troy Merry-makers Senior Club; Lynn Nungesser, Alhambra, of the Alhambra Always Alert Senior Club; and Mariann Yevin, Granite City, of the Moonspinners Club. Each of these members received a certificate and bracelet.

Four Madison County 4-H'ers were named to attend the Illinois Junior Leaders Conference in July 1974 at Monticello. The conference is a week-long educational workshop attended by two boys and two girls from each county in Illinois.

Chosen were Steve Geiger, Alhambra, of the Good Producers; Dick Givlio, East Alton, of Fosterburg Ag; Anita Ciszczon, Collinsville, of Collinsville Colonettes; and Mariann Yevin, Granite City, of Moonspinners.

Larry Durbank of the Illinois Bankers Association presented 33 4-H'ers with ribbons for A-rated project, food and activity demonstrations and public speaking competition at the county level.

Twenty-two clubs were named as 4-H Honor Clubs, including the Moonspinners. The Madison County 4-H Federation presents a plaque each year to the club having the largest attendance at a monthly meeting. The 1973 recipient was the Liberty Belles.

Each year selected adults are honored as 4-H alumni. Those receiving the 1973 4-H alumni award were Shirley Drexilius, Edwardsville; Ben Givlio, Alton; and Wilfred Givlio, Edwardsville. All of the recipients are former 4-H members who are active in community and church events. They also give strong support to the county 4-H program and other organizations.

Following the awards program, Miss Darlene Heer, associate home economics adviser in Madison County, presented a program concerning the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program, another phase of 4-H work being done in the county.

The 4-H program is the youth phase of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Program. More information on 4-H is available at 656-4682 or 656-7200.

Proposes bill to revise levee district structure

A bill to abolish the present two-county East Side Levee and Sanitary District will be introduced in the Illinois legislature in January by State Rep. Monroe Flinn (D-Cahokia). Flinn announced last week.

Flinn said he will co-sponsor the bill with several Democratic and Republican legislators of Madison and St. Clair counties. The bill would provide for a referendum on a proposal to abolish the district as it now exists in parts of Madison and St. Clair Counties. If the referendum were approved, the present district would be replaced by a metropolitan type system, governed by a council of mayors and county officials of the two counties. The council of mayors would appoint an executive board which would hire a professional administrator.

The levee district now is administered by a five-man board, with two trustees elected in Madison County and three elected in St. Clair County.

Introduction of the new bill would mark the third time within the last two years that legislative efforts have been made to alter the structure of the district.

UNIWAH DISTRICT BOY SCOUT OFFICERS installed Thursday night for 1974 are, left to right, Ronald Luebben and John Schrader, vice-chairmen; Mrs. Marlean Manogian, first woman to be installed as

Scout leader awards made

A series of awards were presented in a variety of categories at the annual dinner meeting of the Uniwah (Quad-City) District, Boy Scouts of America, at Tempel's Smorgasbord.

Awards were presented for leadership training, Scouters training, Den leaders training and to Den leader coaches. National camping awards and Cub Scout summertime awards also were presented.

The district commissioner's staff for the coming year includes Donald Schmitt, District commissioner; Bruce Ford, Suzanne Brooks, Dave Warren and John D. Johnson, all assistant district commissioners, and Nadene Taylor, Cub Scout roundtable commissioner.

Leadership training awards were presented by Floyd Jordan, training chairman, as follows: Scouters' Key, Dale O'Beir of Pack 21, Charles Taylor of Troop 5, Joseph Vizer of Troop 12 and Ray Gaudette Jr. Troop 98.

Scouters Training awards were presented to Gerald Grasso Pack 98 and Robert Moske of Troop 5.

Den Leader's training awards were presented to Rose Lawrence of Pack 21, Helen Miller of Pack 46 and Mrs. Shirley Gaudette of Pack 98.

Den Leader's Coach awards went to Mrs. Vee Throne, Pack 19, and Mrs. Foote, Pack 108.

The National Camping awards were presented to Richard Foote, Scoutmaster of Troop 99; George Duhmann, Scoutmaster of Troop 7; Taylor of Troop 5, Potter of Troop 46 and Mennerick of Troop 35.

Cub Scout Summertime awards were presented to Cubmasters of Packs that continue meeting all summer, as follows: Pack 12, Leon Scroggins; Pack 19, Joe Williams; Pack 21, Dale O'Beir; Pack 26, Marvin Meng; Pack 46, Bernard Miller Jr.; Pack 47, Ed Dohal; Pack 98, Bob Patton Sr.; Pack 107, Pete Wilmon Jr.; Pack 108, Richard Leido; Pack 122, Donald Ogden, and Pack 141, Charles E. Smith.

"Everyone should have time for Scouting," Dr. Layloff said in addressing the adult leaders attending the meeting.

"We all have great demands on our time, but I honestly know of no other organization that consistently does so much for so many. The educational elements, the moral elements and the physical elements in the Boy Scout program remain with a Scout his entire life.

"Another thing that makes this program so truly great is that it is conducted by volunteer Scouters. We have a few trained professionals to help and give guidance, but you and I, the volunteer, run the program. Working together, we are the council."

"I am looking forward to working with all of you here during the next year to bring Scouting to every boy in the area, and I want you to feel free to call on me anytime," Dr. Layloff concluded.

$530 BURGLARY SUNDAY
Items worth $530 were stolen from the home of Alan Young, 2616 Lincoln Ave., it was reported at 10:40 p.m. Sunday. Taken were two shotguns, two rifles, three wigs, a camera, a stereo, a camping stove and a camping heater.

She was born in Blodgett, Mo., and had lived in the area three years. Mrs. Brown was a member of the Southern Baptist faith.

Her husband, Robert L. Brown, died 49 years ago.

Mrs. Brown is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Raymond (Ruthie) Miller of Laguna Beach, Calif., Mrs. Ernie (Jean) Hopkins of Granite City; two sons, Leonard Brown and Rufus Bryon Brown, both of Manning, S.C.; a sister, Mrs. Arnette McGregor of Hawthorne, Calif.; one brother, James Puckett of Iowa; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Compensation and death penalty laws certified

Gov. Dan Walker has for the first time certified into law both House Bill 18, which permits the death penalty for heinous crimes, and House Bill 1471, increasing maximum weekly benefits for workmen's compensation. He had returned the bills to the General Assembly with specific recommendations for changes.

Gov. Walker certified that the changes adopted by both houses of the legislature conform to his suggestions. The bills take effect immediately.

The General Assembly added two clarifications to the amendatory vote message on House Bill 18. Sponsor Rep. Henry J. Hyde (R, Park Ridge) worked out the rewording of the amendment with Governor Walker's approval before presenting it to the House.

The clarifications are:
1. The addition of the specific words "for mercy" to the clause permitting the sentencing judges in a murder case to waive capital punishment where there are compelling reasons for doing so.

Gov. Walker said in his original message that his purpose in adding the penalty waiver was to "allow the mandatory penalty of death to be tempered with mercy."

The clause now says the death penalty shall be imposed when the judges determine that the crime falls into one of the categories specified in the bill "unless a majority of the judges of such court determines that there are compelling reasons for mercy and that the defendant should not be sentenced to death."

2. A definition of "final adjudication" in the section stipulating that no one can be executed until the new death penalty legislation has been upheld after the U.S. Supreme Court has had the opportunity to review it. Walker said the definition expresses exactly the intent of his use of the term "final adjudication."

House Bill 1471, sponsored by Rep. E. J. "Zeke" Giorgi (D, Rockford), was amended to change a mistake in a date that would have had the effect of suspending unemployment payments from Sept. 9 through Nov. 4.

As certified into law, the act raises the ceilings for payment under the Unemployment Compensation Act from $51 to $80 for a person without dependents, from $74 to $82 for a worker with dependent spouse, from $80 to $86 for a worker with one child, from $87 to $88 for two children, from $90 to $96 for three children, and from $97 to $106 for four or more children.

Payments for unemployment compensation are 50 per cent of the worker's average weekly wage during a one-year period prior to his or her unemployment, but only up to the specified ceilings.

BURGLARY AT TAVERN

Burglars stole a pay telephone and change from the juke box and cigarette vending machine at Hoppe's Tavern, 2801 Edwardsville Road, it was reported Monday. The telephone was torn from the wall. There were no signs of forced entry into the building, officers noted.

Mayall's album notes tenth year

There's a lot of fine music everywhere, but it's not just laying it out that makes for a successful musician. It's that little "something extra" that pushes their efforts out ahead of the pack and on top for years.

A good example of that "something extra" is John Mayall, who is celebrating his 10th anniversary on record with a new two-set album entitled "Ten Years Are Gone" on Polydor records. Blues fans get a double treat here, since one record is a studio set and the other was recorded live from New York's Academy of Music.

Once again, as with all of Mayall's work, you can tell that the LP is the genuine product of a lot of hard work and the blending of his band. For years it's been John's trade mark to use a different band on almost all of his records. However, this time around the personnel are basically the same hard-working crew that backed him last year. They include Blue Mitchell on trumpet, Victor Gaskin on string bass, Keef Hartley on drums, Freddy Robinson on guitar and Mayall on harmonica, electric piano, guitar and vocals.

As two added dimensions, Mayall is also featuring Red Holloway, (who has been with him for about a year but never cropped up on an LP until now) on the tenor saxophone and flute, and the remarkable Sugar Cane Harry is making a guest appearance on three of the LP's cuts.

Looking back on his previous bands, which included such outstanding talents as Johnny Almond, Eric Clapton, Mick Fleetwood, Jon Mark, Mick Taylor and many others, John says there are no favorites and none better than his present group.

"When I think back on all the bands I've been with," he recalled, "none stand out really, because each was a great time and experience for all of us. I guess it's just a part of history and I really do look back on all of them with happiness."

While discussing his constant changing of personnel, John said it was basically because he wanted to keep his music fresh and not get into a rut which so many bands do. "I enjoy playing with as many people as possible and it's a fluid way of doing things 'cause it's not the sort of band 'cause there will always be a strict set of arrangements. Instead, it's a band of musical personalities and the blending together of different styles, and of course that thrill and excitement of adventure will always be there," he said.

As for Mayall's style, his worldwide reputation as "Father of the Blues" and "High Priest of the Blues" pretty well tells the story, except that I find there's more than just blues present in his music. Rock and jazz can be felt throughout "Ten Years" if you lend an open ear.

John explains it this way: "I'd call it a variation of the blues because I think of blues as a very warm encompassing word. But as far as dabbling in rock, well they sort of overlap just as jazz does in my music. They are all part of the same thing to the extent that we can work both into our material."

"For example, blues and jazz are fused to the extent that we have jazz people playing blues and blues musicians playing jazz and all of them playing rock," he said.

"You know, laying down a blues or a jazz song is done somewhat different than other types of music. For one thing, the stage is like a workshop for us. We just start playing and everybody's contributions sort of begin to take shape into a song. Many times you start with an idea or a mood of some kind that will suggest a basic theme for a song, but much of it is moods and attitude."

So what makes this band and this album different? Well, it could be many things. John's 10 years of experience, his basically black band that doesn't play with white plasticity, the change in attitudes toward the blues—all might play a part. But John explains it this way:

"The most important thing that makes this band work is the empathy that each member has for the other. They have a remarkable capability as musicians and I think this is a strange finding but it allows us a large range of freedom which is essential to survive."

And survive they (or should it be he) have to become masters of their trade. Blues, jazz or rock fans, try it you'll like it.

Bike injuries related to violations—by cyclists

At least 80 per cent of those persons killed or injured in bicycle accidents last year violated traffic laws, according to a report by the National Safety Council.

Yet—in Illinois at least—there's no need for bike riders to be unsure of just what those traffic laws are. Not with a copy of the new "Bicycle Rules of the Road" issued by the office of Sec. of State Michael J. Howlett.

The new pocket-sized handbook for bicycle riders spells out, in language geared to the young and old rider, just what those responsibilities are.

"Everyone who drives a car in Illinois must have a driver's license or an instruction permit. Every bicycle rider must obey the law," Howlett explained. "To ride a bicycle you do not need an operator's license," he continued, "but you must obey all traffic laws."

The 20-page booklet represents a condensed, and less expensive, version of the old "Bicycle Rules," issued in April 1971. It is less flashy, with fewer pages and color illustrations. But the message is the same.

Chapters dealing with bicycle equipment, signals and signs, traffic control signals, pavement markings and traffic laws outline what laws the bike rider must follow.

In addition, much emphasis is put on recognition of the new traffic, warning and guide signs which are being installed throughout the state.

Finally, a bit of advice to all adults is included in the back of the booklet.

"If you are an adult... first, in riding your bicycle, observe all the state laws and the local ordinances. Ride with the same caution with which you drive. "Second, you have certain responsibilities insofar as your children are concerned. The Illinois State Vehicle Code states that the parent of any child and the guardian of any ward shall not authorize or knowingly permit any such child or ward to violate any provision of this Act."

Coin design competition

Illinois artists have a chance to design the reverse side of three U. S. coins commemorating the American Revolution Bicentennial, the Illinois Bicentennial Commission announced.

The U. S. Department of the Treasury will award $5,000 to each of three winners of the national competition for Bicentennial designs to appear on the dollar, half dollar and quarter dollar, according to Mrs. Mary Brooks, director of the U. S. Mint.

This is the first time in history that designs on circulating United States coinage are being changed to celebrate an anniversary of American independence.

The National Sculpture Society, on behalf of the Mint, is conducting a nationwide competition which is open to all sculptors who are United States citizens and who are capable of executing a compatible plastic

New deadline Dec. 17 on Democratic grants to aged, disabled candidate screening

Senior citizens and disabled persons who have not already filed for 1972 property tax relief from the state now have until Dec. 17 to file for a cash grant, Robert H. Alphin, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue, announced Tuesday.

"I have extended the filing deadline a second and final time because of Gov. Walker's and my concern that thousands of senior citizens and disabled persons are not taking advantage of this important tax benefit," Alphin said.

Alphin had previously extended the deadline from Sept. 15 to Nov. 15.

"The Dec. 17 deadline concerns only those senior citizens and disabled persons who have not already filed for a grant this year," Alphin said. "Grants are based on the amount of income and property tax paid in 1972."

Under the Senior Citizens and Disabled Persons Property Tax Relief Act (also known as the "circuit breaker"), effective Jan. 1, 1973, eligible citizens who pay rent or property tax on homes may qualify for an annual cash grant.

"The department has processed nearly 157,000 applications since the law became effective," Alphin said.

"More than 95,000 of these applicants have received cash grants averaging $160."

More than 40 per cent of those who applied did not qualify to receive a grant because their property tax or equivalent rent did not exceed the percentages required by law.

Only persons over 65 and those physically and mentally disabled who lived in Illinois during 1972 and earned less than $10,000 are eligible to receive cash grants under the law.

Eligible citizens are being urged to obtain an application (Form IL-1362) by calling any Illinois Department of Revenue office (312-641-2150 in Chicago; 217-525-3338 in Springfield) or by writing the Illinois Department of Revenue, P. O. Box 3124, Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Applications mailed to the department must be postmarked no later than Dec. 17.

Interviews will be conducted at 7 p.m. Dec. 3 and 7 p.m. Dec. 4 at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

A screening committee was formed at a meeting Monday night at Charlie's Restaurant of the Madison County Democratic Committee executive board. The committee consists of township and district chairmen, plus Democratic County Chairman Walter T. Simmons of Venice and County Secretary Sam W. Wolf of Granite City.

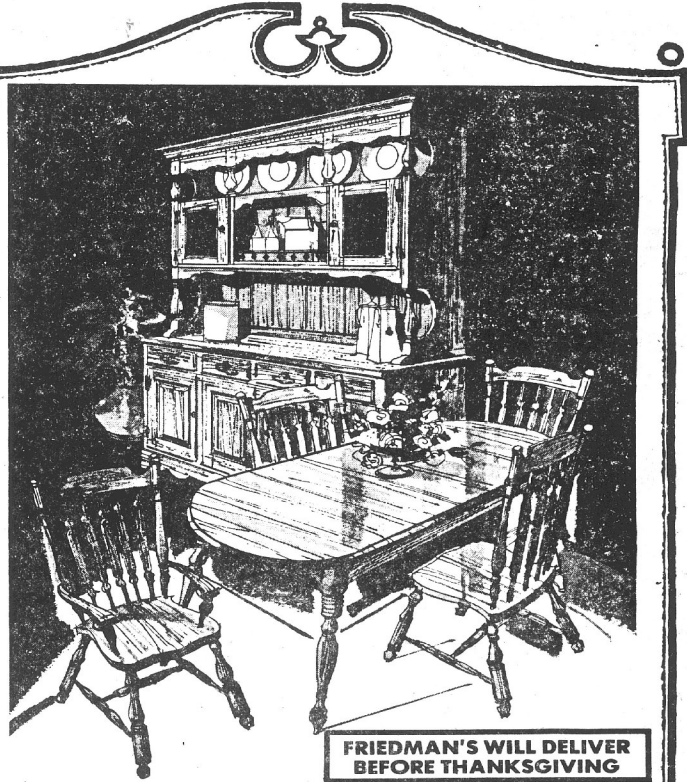

The screening group will interview potential candidates for offices to be voted on in 1973. It then is to report back to the executive board with its findings and recommendations.

Potential Democratic candidates desiring to appear before the screening committee are to send a letter of request to: Madison County Democratic Committee, 1506 Johnson Road, Granite City.

Each letter should include a statement as to the office sought and an outline of the individual's educational, family and experience background, Simmons said.

"As soon as possible after receipt of the letter, the secretary will advise the individual by telephone or mail of the date and time to appear for an interview," Simmons related.

Interviews will be conducted at 7 p.m. Dec. 3 and 7 p.m. Dec. 4 at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

Wheat growing, beans harvested

By WARREN W. BUNDY

Agricultural advisers say that soybean harvest nearly complete and corn harvest about 80 per cent done in Madison County, the harvested fields give the rural scene a wintry appearance. The exception is the fields of green growing winter wheat. Some wheat was planted early and, with the late fall, the plants run the risk of jointing this fall. Too much fall growth can lead to three problems—excessive winter-kill, a tendency for plants to smother themselves out in the spring, and increased chance of lodging.

If plants are more than eight to 10 inches tall, you can clip them back to about four inches with a mower or forage chopper, or graze them if the ground is solid.

A Collinsville Township farmer said last week he thinks the yield of some of his wheat was lower this year because it made too much growth last fall.

Corn borer is a major cause of low yield in some fields of corn checked last week in Marine Township.

Some stalks showed damage by as many as 10 borers per stalk during the growing season, and five live corn borer worms are in some stalks now.

A University of Illinois Extension entomologist says about four times more corn borer worms are now present in Illinois corn fields than were present a year ago. Second and third generation worms cause small or chaffy ears as well as dropped ears and broken stalks.

Corn borers over-winter in the worm stage inside corn stalks. Clean plowing under of stalks before next May 1 will prevent moths from emerging from the stalks. Chopping or shredding stalks will kill many worms.

Some fall plowing has been done in Madison County. Farmers take advantage of good fall weather to get a head start on their 1974 cropping program. But don't go overboard on fall plowing. Be sure the time you gain isn't offset by soil losses from wind and water erosion.

For maximum erosion control, use your moldboard plow only on fields with less than four per cent slopes. A chisel plow or disk will leave more residue on the surface than moldboard plowing.

The greatest danger of erosion occurs on soybean ground. That's because growing soybeans loosen the soil and leave less residue on the soil surface. Plowing soybean fields in the fall removes what little residue remains and increases the chances of wind and water erosion.

Whether you fall till with a moldboard plow, a chisel plow or a disk, try to leave the surface rough to provide resistance to wind and water.

Pricing grains is a popular topic among farmers. Some cash grain farmers price their grain at the time they deliver it to market. Others, by future-pricing, set the price of their grain some time prior to the time they deliver it to market. Future-pricing may be done by cash contract or by commodity futures contract.

Factors which influence marketing decisions include the outlook situation, cash flow commitments, net profit needs, grain conditioning and storage facilities available, and willingness or ability to assume risks.

Those factors and marketing methods will be discussed in detail at a meeting in Madison County for cash grain farmers and others interested on Wednesday, Nov. 21, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Farm Bureau auditorium in Edwardsville.

Speakers will be University of Illinois Farm Management Specialists Royce Hinton and Al Harms and Extension Adviser Warren Bundy.

Army enlistment option offered

The United States Army has announced a new two-year enlistment option.

The option offers either training in a skill of the applicant's choosing, or assignment in Europe following successful completion of required training in a skill selected by the Army. The option includes training in over 150 occupational areas and is open to male and female applicants.

Major General John Q. Henion, commander of the U.S. Army Recruiting Command, said the new option "reflects an exciting opportunity for young men and women to experience a valuable addition to their lives and at the same time render an important national service.

"Our research indicates there are a good many young men and women in this country who would enlist in the Volunteer Army if they could arrange a two-year tour as an initial enlistment," he said. "Many feel that three years is just too large a commitment. They regard two years as an ideal length of time in which to do some travelling and thinking and pick up some valuable learning."

More information on the Volunteer Army's new option may be obtained from Tom Sparks or John Keene, Army representatives in this area, at 870-5950.

HURT ON SLOUGH ROAD

Rotary foundation applicants sought

Joseph Hassler, president of the Granite City Rotary Club has announced that the club is seeking local young men and women as candidates for Rotary Foundation educational awards for study abroad in 1975-76.

The Foundation offers four types of educational awards: Graduate Fellowships, for those who have received a bachelor's degree or equivalent and are between the ages of 20 and 28; undergraduate scholarships, for those with a minimum of two years of university level work and are ages 18 to 24; technical training awards for those with a secondary education and at least two years' working experience and are 21 to 35; awards to teachers of the handicapped, for those who have been engaged as fulltime teachers of the mentally, physically or educationally handicapped for at least two years at the time of application and are 25 to 50.

Each award includes round-trip transportation, educational and living expenses for one academic year, and funds for intensive language training, if necessary. In 1947, the Foundation started its programs of sending young adults abroad for study. Since that time the Foundation has awarded more than $17.5 million for its various programs, and more than 6,000 young men and women have gone to countries other than their own for a year of study.

TOP AWARD is displayed by Dee Adams, named 'Diver of the Year' at the Bubblemasters' annual awards banquet at the Red Carpet Inn in St. Louis County. He is a past president and active participant in all scuba diving activities.

As a non-profit organization, the Rotary Foundation is supported by voluntary contributions from Rotarians, Rotary clubs, and friends of Rotary in 150 different countries.

A Rotary Foundation award was granted to Richard Carp, now of University City, Mo., who studied in 1950 in Oxford, England.

Further information about these awards is available from Robert Miller, chairman of International Service for the local club, at the Trauma Center, St. Elizabeth Hospital. The application deadline is March 15.

Dee Adams wins top Bubblemaster award

The Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club awarded its top trophy—"Diver of the Year"—to Dee Adams, 241 Cardinal Ave., a past president and an active member of the local club, at its annual awards banquet Saturday evening at the Red Carpet Inn, St. Louis County.

About 100 members and guests attended the banquet and dance, elected new officers and viewed the awards presentation ceremony. Jack Richardson, president, served as master of ceremonies and music for dancing was furnished by "Genesis" led by Don Kelly of Madison.

Elected president was Vance R. Weiss, 2610 Jerden Ave., former armmaster of the scuba diving club. Winning contested elections in secret balloting were: Phil Lamm, vice-president; Mrs. Joyce Miller, secretary; and Mrs. Barb Duffin, treasurer.

Board members chosen earlier are Dr. Chris Geroff, Dee Adams, Jack Kesselheim and Bob Byrnes. Newly elected officers of the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT), a group which works closely with civil defense and area police authorities, were introduced. They are Don Digilamo, captain; Rich Grizzard, first lieutenant; Mike Henderson, second lieutenant and Bruce Evans, secretary-treasurer.

Adams was presented an electric clock, mounted on an inscribed plaque, as his "Diver of the Year" trophy. Edward Duffin received the club's "Champion Spearfisherman of the Year" trophy in the competitive diving category.

Monthly "Spearfisherman" trophies were received by Phil Lamm, May and August; Dee Adams, June; and Jack Richardson, September. Richardson presented appreciation plaques to Mrs. Elva Weiss, Ron Ruppel, Lamm, Digilamo, Rich Ruppel, Weiss, and Edward and Barbara Duffin.

Paul Carico collected the huge inter-club trophy for sharing the biggest fish in competition with the Alton Masketeers, which won the Bubblemasters' 1973 award; and Fred Sarich received a mounted "fish" recording his contribution in club contests. Serving on the entertainment and decorating committee were Mrs. Mary Adams, Mrs. Sharon Ernie, Mrs. Mary Brannan and Mrs. Barbara Duffin.

Goal for aged—less 'red tape'

Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan, chairman of the Technical Advisory Committee to the new Illinois Department of Aging, outlined his committee's goals while speaking at the first meeting during the weekend in Chicago.

He said, "One man in my office initially located 25 programs in various departments, but upon further investigation located 19 more. If it takes a man in my office three months to locate 44 programs, one can imagine the problem a senior citizen might have in locating a specific one."

Hartigan said seniors are now faced with "a disjointed and uncoordinated maze of bureaucracy."

He added, "The first project of our committee, which was created to coordinate these programs, will be to evaluate each one. Only those providing quality services or with potential to do so will continue."

He called on members of the committee, comprised of directors of various programs for seniors, to play an active role in advocating programs which provide the best services available to the state's 1.2 million senior citizens.

Other members of the committee are the superintendent of public instruction and the directors of the following state departments: Aging, Children and Family Services, Insurance, Labor, Local Government Affairs, Mental Health, Public Health, Revenue and Transportation.

Dixon—record state earnings

Alan J. Dixon, in announcing this week that he will seek reelection as state treasurer in 1974, said his office will have earned a record-breaking $300 million in interest on state funds by the time his first term of office ends in January 1975.

"The $300-million-plus earnings figure is the sixth largest revenue producer for the state of Illinois," Dixon said, "and it is the only revenue producer among the state's major sources of income which is not supported by taxes."

Dixon said tax revenues from income, sales, motor fuel, public utilities and cigarettes are the only state revenue sources to produce more than the investments he makes as state treasurer.

"Efficient investment of state funds is a major reason we will surpass the $300 million figure," Dixon said. "I am the first Illinois state treasurer to draw interest on every single penny of state money available for investment."

"And," Dixon continued, "my administration is the first to deposit state funds with banks in every county of Illinois."

The 46-year-old Dixon, who served 20 years in the Illinois General Assembly prior to his election as state treasurer in 1970, pointed out that the record achievements in his office have taken place without increasing the number of personnel or the operational budget.

"We have done this when the cost of government in Illinois—during the same period—has soared and soared," Dixon said.

Ask the Governor

Q. We have been trying for two years to get help for our two granddaughters whose parents were killed in an auto accident. The girls have brain damage from the accident and can't seem to learn as other children. Through the Special Education Association in Kansas, we were finally able to find a school in Dallas, Texas, that would evaluate them. After the children were accepted and we had come back home, we were notified that there would be no help or grant from the State of Illinois to Texas. Why have new grants been stopped to Texas?—Mrs. R. Reid, Clifton.

A. I believe that both the financial assistance which the department provides does not go directly to Texas. It is available to families upon the recommendation of the staff after an evaluation of the child's needs. This Interim Care Grant Program is approved only after the staff determines that the child should be placed outside of the home and that there is no space available in an appropriate state facility. The school district in which the child is enrolled must also state that it cannot service the child.

If at all possible, we want Illinois children close to home. We want them in facilities licensed and checked monthly by the department to ensure high standards. I send you my very best wishes.

Q. Our school district is in a serious financial plight. We are running a bond referendum. The prospects for passage are somewhat bleak. What action can be taken by the State of Illinois to relieve the extreme distress caused by serious financial problems and the unwillingness of local citizens to raise the property tax to support local education? Is there not a way by which legislation can be passed to enable school districts to receive special subsidies to keep their schools open or from being closed prematurely?—Robert E. Lindburg, East Dubuque.

A. Unfortunately, most referenda to raise tax rates and bonds have been turned down in recent years. I feel we should do everything we can locally to support our schools and properly educate our children. But when local support fails, we have some recourse. Legislation was passed this session which I signed to aid local school districts. The "School Construction Bond Act" will provide finances to public elementary and secondary education for capital improvements and the retirement of bonds previously floated. This means the state will issue and sell bonds up to $400 million. Of this amount, $300 million will be used as grants to school districts to acquire, develop and rehabilitate educational facilities; $100 million will be used for making principal and interest payments.

Gov. Dan Walker invites you to question him about state government and what state government should be doing for people. All questions will be answered by letter by Gov. Walker and some of the questions and answers will appear, probably condensed, in this column. Letters must be signed and an address provided. Send to: ASK THE GOVERNOR, Illinois Information Service, 105 State Office Building, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

FIRST STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE on SIU Board, Don Hastings Jr. (center), newly elected student representative of SIUE to the Board of Trustees, reviews the agenda for the Thursday board meeting at Carbondale with Ivan A. He does not have an official vote, but is entitled to attend all sessions of the board and was asked by the chairman at Thursday's meeting to cast unofficial votes indicating his feelings about proposals being considered by the board.

MRS. VIOLET A. BOYER, 705 Niedringhaus Ave., has received a Department of Army certificate commending her sustained superior job performance at Headquarters and Installation Support Activity at Granite City. Mrs. Boyer is employed by H&ISA's Supply Division.

Crisis Center aiding an increasing number

"Someone cares—24 hours a day." This is the message of the "Call for Help" service, also known as the Suicide and Crisis Intervention Center, located at 7800 W. Main St., Belleville.

A spokesman noted this week that the center has now been in service for three and a half years, during which "we have learned a great deal, weathered some crises, and hopefully have done a better job to help people. There is no magic in all this. The dramatic emergency is rarely part of the scene. In fact, we can make no claim to having saved anyone from suicide."

"All we can say is that each year the crisis calls have increased. And because someone was there who really cared, people found hope and the help to choose life instead of death. Perhaps that is enough," the spokesman commented.

"Call For Help" volunteers come from many walks of life and differ greatly in age, religion and background. The quality of being a "caring person" is perhaps the one thing they have in common.

"Trained, mature and capable, they are the key to an effective suicide and crisis intervention service. The service has a need for more volunteers and anyone interested can call 387-0963 or the office at 397-0968," he concluded.

While soccer activity in the United States dates back to the nineteenth century, it was not until 1913 that the current governing body of the sport was officially established. The United States Soccer-Football Association is composed of all the state associations in the country, with the collegiate, scholastic and other groups as associate members, which includes the Illinois High School Association.

Page 40 Thurs., Nov. 15, 1973

The association is the ruling body for some 55 schools in the state, among them is Granite City High School South with a student population of 3,100 which first saw varsity soccer action on Dec. 5, 1967, with Coach Tom Wyrostek at the helm. That year's roster included 20 seniors, 20 juniors and about 30 sophomores.

Although the sport was new to the school's interscholastic competition, the team was not entirely inexperienced as 12 were veterans of the local YMCA soccer program.

Granite lost its opening game 0-1 against Assumption at East St. Louis and went on to post a first year record of 2-7-3. Since then it has steadily improved, 5-6-6 the second year, 11-4-0 the third. In 1971 the squad posted its first undefeated year with 18 wins and one tie with Coach John Sellmeyer as head mentor. 1972 witnessed the first Illinois state soccer championship, and Coach Sellmeyer's squad defeated New Trier West in the final at Normal, Ill., to become the state's first title holder. The team broke or set new records enroute to a 21-1-2 overall season, having lost only to Collinsville early in the year, the first defeat since 1970.

Sellmeyer, speaking of this year's team which has Gene Baker as the new head mentor, said "The boys have set a good overall record, considering they lost some of their depth due to the split in the school district. . . . Some of the team's first stringers were transferred to the new GCHS North."

That fact did not bother the 1973 Warriors as Baker and Assistant Coach Mel Bunting taught them to win. The defending champions shutout Assumption of East St. Louis 3-0 in the season opener, a far cry from the 1967 defeat. They lost their next game to New Trier-East 0-3 but went on to post an 18-1 regular season record enroute to the state finals to defend their crown.

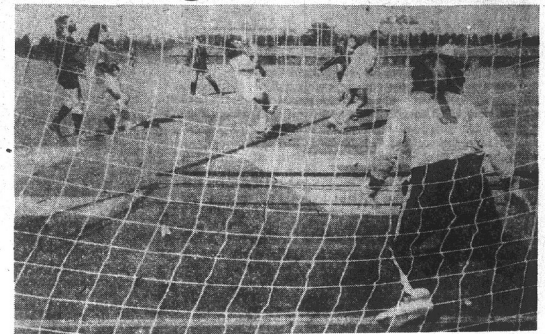

At state they were dealt their second loss of the year in the semi-finals last Friday against Morton East. They then finished on a victorious note Saturday by downing Lake Forest 1-0, a team they had defeated 2-0 in regular season play. Thus, the Warriors brought home third place state honors.

"I think tension had a lot to do with the outcome of the Morton East game," said Baker. "I think in every state tournament, it's not just a matter of how hard you worked all year or how good you are, but it also takes a little luck."

"I thought we played well enough to win, we showed them we are a good soccer team, but on that particular day, everything just wasn't going our way."

"We came a long way and I think we are happy with the overall performance," he commented. "To be among the top three teams in the state is something to be proud of."

Baker added, "Two players led the Warriors in the 1972-73 year, earning between them 55 of the team's 92 goals. Each broke last year's record of 21 goals set by Randy Worthen.

Don Goldschmidt not only tallied 28 goals this year but also set a new record of assists in scoring with 21. The old mark was 12, also held by Worthen. Mike Martinez compiled 27 goals with 12 assists, and the record of most assists in scoring by an individual was credited to Keith Gehling, with 24. He also scored eight of the team's goals.

The 92 points scored by the Warriors failed to surpass 97 last year but the eight goals scored against them by opponents was another record, below the 12 of 1972. Goalie Keith Kibort tied last year's record of 15 shutouts set by Tom Clark but the total of 16 by the team matched the previous mark.

The 1972 Warriors had three players named to all-state: Wayne Canada, Carl Dake and Worthen. This year, two made the list, Goldschmidt and Gehling.

For ten Granite City Warriors, 1973 was their last year in high school soccer. Tom Clark, Mike Fry, Ted Geggus, Gehling, Goldschmidt, Joe Grace, Gary Hency, Martinez, Mark Voegle and Ruben Ybarra all will graduate before the 1974 season begins, leaving the 1974 squad with five seniors, four sophomores and three juniors to carry on.

"I definitely feel next year will be a rebuilding stage for us," said Baker.

"All the boys left after this year have great potential because of their youth and skills."

"This year we had about six players who were really outstanding. Next year it looks like we'll have about 15 with equal abilities," he predicted.

But what of the graduating stars of today? What does the future hold for them?

"This is an early recruiting period for colleges," says Baker. "St. Louis University already has expressed an interest in Goldschmidt, Gehling, Martinez, Ybarra and Geggus also are top college prospects. Anywhere they want to go, I think they should be taken."

"Gary Hency and Tom Clark have had some offers also," he said. "Next year we should have six or seven boys playing college soccer from this year's team."

The head coach feels GCHS

South has definitely been an asset to the sport.

"When a team in any area does well, everyone from all around wants to try and beat it. When the area is down, and no one does a thing, then the sport will stay down."

"I believe that because we've done so well in state competition, everybody wants to compete with us. If we were good at horseshoes, they would want to beat us in horseshoes."

But the Warriors are good at soccer and if last year and this year are any indication of what is to come in 1974, every school in the Midwest will be crying to compete against them.

Select academy trainees

A 30-man pilot group of trainees to launch the state's new corrections training academy is now being selected from among correction department guards with the ranks of sergeant, lieutenant or captain.

The actual site for the new academy still has to be determined, but Jesse Maghan, recently named superintendent for the academy, said the first group is being drawn up, to undergo a five to six-day, 40-hour initial program.

Selection of the site is expected within two weeks, he said.

Initially, the operation will be a "roving academy," and sites now under consideration include mental hospitals which have units which have been closed down, universities which have strong correctional training programs, or other state properties which have empty space, he said.

Maghan also announced that Jim Harris, formerly administrative assistant in the field services area of the state department of corrections, has been named his assistant superintendent, and another assistant, Price Gore, has joined the office.

Gore, who was with the Florida division of human resources, is a black who has amassed an outstanding record in minority recruiting and training both in Florida and Georgia, Maghan said.

In adopting the academy concept, Illinois is joining a growing national trend for training correctional personnel, the superintendent said, adding that the state's new program is modeled on the National Institute for Corrections which also functions presently as a "roving" operation.

Though the initial middle management program will run for five or six days, Maghan said that future programs will be structured around the individual issue involved — separate programs for wardens, or counselors, or rehabilitation personnel, for instance, which might each run for a varying period of time.

"I can envision some programs which could last for six weeks," Maghan added. "I'll only get to launch this program one time," he went on, "so I'm devoting a lot of time to the initial setup and concepts. We don't want just another workshop. This is to be a program which should benefit the system and the employees, both in the billfold and in other ways."

He is presently working with personnel division to look at models for merit increases, recognition programs and the like other places, he said.

"What people don't realize," he added, "is that the prisoners come and go but the guards are the ones who stay in prison for years and years. This has an effect on their approaches and outlooks, and these are the people we must reach to institute any changes in attitudes."

EMERSON VANDALIZED
Vandals sprayed the contents of a fire extinguisher through a vent fan into the cafeteria of Emerson School, it was reported at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday. An empty extinguisher was found in the 2000 block of Berton Street. The chemicals used in the extinguisher were analyzed and found to be poisonous so the cafeteria had to be cleaned thoroughly before it could be used Tuesday.

Simon faces gamble in try for Congress

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Paul Simon is putting his political future on the line a lot sooner than most at the Statehouse had expected. The former lieutenant governor, who will be 45 this month, is in the process this week of running for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 24th District, gambling his governmental career on one big roll of the political dice.

There is the feeling that if he loses, he might be out of the big picture as far as a second try for governor, a shot at the U.S. Senate or another try for Congress is concerned.

The reasoning is that you can't lose two times running and retain any political standing in this closely politically divided state.

How big a gamble does Simon face in his assumed bid to replace veteran Southern Illinois Congressman Kenneth Gray of West Frankfort?

A fairly big one in the view of some knowledgeable politicians at the Capital. The Simon name and reputation, respected as they may be, are in themselves no guarantee of victory. Nor is the apparent lack of any "heavyweight" opposition.

Dean Barringer of Anna, who ran unsuccessfully for state comptroller with Daniel Walker in the election, has been mentioned as a possibility and so has industrious State Sen. Kenneth Buzbee of Carbondale. It's not that Barringer or Buzbee are personally strong in the sprawling 22-county district that covers most of Southern Illinois, but the issue of who might be backing them.

House Democratic Leader Clyde Lee Chaste of Anna, heir to the political power once wielded by the late Paul Powell, is decidedly cool to a Simon candidacy. Like some legislative veterans, he has long resented of Simon's "Mr. Klean" image.

But the Simon-Chaste relationship is a Damon and Pythias one compared to that existing between Walker and Simon. The bitterness of the 1972 primary campaign has not only not abated, but has intensified. Simon ran against Walker in the 1972 primary election and lost to Walker.

Walker and his political high command, including deputy to the governor Victor DeGraia — considered by the Simon camp as the mastermind of the "dirty tricks" of the 1972 primary — would relish an opportunity to extinguish the Simon star once and for all.

But perhaps the biggest handicap Simon would face in a primary fight would be the fact that he does not live in the district.

This is a handicap in any campaign, but might be especially so in deep Southern Illinois, where suspicion of an "outsider" is part of the heritage.

He also can expect opposition from Gray himself.

Bolstering the Simon drive might be the fallout of Watergate—a desire of the voters to turn to candidates of proven integrity.

But professional politicians are not too impressed with Watergate as a direct factor in area campaigns and, as in 1972, Simon would face the charge that he has been embraced by the organization of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

It is always difficult to "come back" in politics, and one can be

Energy conservation plans by merchants

Illinois retailers are responding to President Nixon's call for energy conservation measures, Hugh E. Muncey, president, Illinois Retail Merchants Association, has noted.

Prior to the President's nationwide broadcast of Nov. 7, many merchants in the state had begun developing plans that can result in a reduction in the use of electricity and heating fuels. Now the planning schedules have been accelerated, with many taking positive steps to reduce energy usage.

There have been instances where incandescent lighting has been converted to fluorescent. Decisions regarding seasonal ornamental lighting for streets, shopping centers and within stores may result in less elaborate displays. "We are confident customers will applaud the positive actions of retailers at this time," Muncey said.

The IRMA is issuing suggestions that may serve as guidelines for individual retailers in developing their plans for energy conservation. Following President Nixon's recommendations and actions taken by Governor Dan Walker in reference to state vehicles and facilities, the IRMA is including these points in its guidelines for merchants:

- A reduction in temperatures in stores, warehouses and offices to 68 degrees during customer service periods; lower temperatures for times when the facilities are not generally occupied.
- Inauguration of "turn off unneeded lights" campaigns among employees. Institution of campaigns to make employee car pools operative.
- Urging customers to carry more merchandise to reduce delivery schedules.
- A reduction in parking lot lighting consistent with sound safety procedures.
- Establish 50 mph speed limits for all store-owned vehicles.

A reduction in use of merchandise demonstrations requiring electrical power.

The IRMA is communication with shopping center operators, retail trade associations and other merchant groups throughout the state, asking them to recommend these and additional energy conservation guidelines which may be appropriate.

TICKET PRESENTATION. James Dumont, principal of Granite City High School-South, is presented a ticket for the concert season of the GCHS-S band by Tim Holt and Pat Gerlach, students at South High. The season of four concerts will open Dec. 6. Tickets for all four concerts are on sale at $2.50 each.

Legal aspect of car pools

The resurgence of interest in carpooling has raised questions concerning the legal status of drivers involved in carpool arrangements.

Two questions in particular are frequently asked. Is a carpool ever regulated as a public utility? And is the liability of a carpool driver different from a driver under other circumstances?

The Highway Users Federation has researched these two concerns and has reported its findings.

Whether or not a carpool arrangement is ever liable to regulation as a utility (i.e., as a common carrier or a carrier for hire) is dependent on the circumstances involved.

The dividing line is between the rights of a citizen to travel on highways and transport his property over them, and the right and privilege of one who uses highways for his place of business or for private gain.

The conventional carpool arrangement which charges a nominal sum, or where the driving chore or expenses are shared among the members, does not constitute the sort of carriage that subjects the driver or drivers to regulation as a carrier for hire.

Concert tickets on sale

Joseph Owens, director of the South High School Band, has announced that band students are now selling tickets for the 1973-74 Concert Series.

The concerts will be held in the South High Auditorium at 8 p.m. on Dec. 6, February 7, March 7, April 4.

Price of the season ticket is $2.50. Each ticket will admit two persons to all four concerts, as well as two state band concerts.

The Stage Band Concerts will be held Jan. 10 and May 14, 1974. Admission to these two concerts is free to anyone presenting a Concert Band season ticket.

Those interested in purchasing season tickets, may contact a South band student or call High School-South.

HURT IN ACCIDENT

Joseph Miller, 46, of 2022 Fourth St., Madison, was admitted to Belleville Memorial Hospital this week suffering injuries received in an auto accident. East St. Louis police reported Miller was thrown from his car when it overturned several times on 98th Street.

Most insurance companies realize that in many carpool arrangements, passengers pay money to the driver.

Some companies do not invoke the exclusionary clause where payment is on a share-expense basis. If the driver makes an unreasonable profit, however, companies generally invoke the exclusionary clause. Drivers involved in carpools are being urged to check with their insurance agents and determine the extent of their coverage.

A simple and inexpensive addition to the policy may be provided to protect the driver. Massachusetts recently approved an additional $2 annual premium for carpool drivers.

Tips on fighting a cold

Along with death and taxes, the third inevitable seems to be the common cold, particularly in the winter months.

Admitting that there is much truth in the old adage that a cold lasts a week if treated or seven days if left to run its course, the Illinois Department of Public Health in its weekly disease control report has issued guidelines which may help either to avoid the infection or lessen the consequences.

Common sense indicates the best way to treat a cold is not to catch it in the first place, the Public Health Department concedes.

It says chances of infection can be diminished by keeping up natural resistance, keeping the humidity up, keeping a distance from people with obvious colds and keeping out of crowds when possible.

Not smoking also is recommended, not only for the obvious reasons of smoking's known link with health and problems, but because smoking irritates the mucous membranes and destroys the cilia in the nose and throat, lowering resistance to all respiratory diseases, the state said.

In spite of precautions, if a cold still develops, the department suggests that, against common sense may be the most beneficial medicine.

The old bromides about getting plenty of rest, drinking lots of liquids (especially fruit juices and hot liquids), eating sensibly, keeping glasses and towels separate and disposing properly of paper tissues may not be miracle cures, but they do help to make the cold victim more comfortable.

And they lessen the chance that bacterial infections or other painful byproducts may arise or that the cold will spread to everyone else in the family.

The bulletins point out that most medication, self-administered, should be kept simple—aspirin may help reduce aches and fever, but a gargle just as effective as fancy, expensive varieties can be made by dissolving salt in water.

There are times, in the history of a cold, when common sense may indicate that something more than common sense is needed—specifically a doctor's attention.

The public health department recommends that the doctor should be called if the patient has a fever above 101 degrees which persists for 24 hours or more, if a bloody discharge from the nose or mouth occurs, or if mucous is rusty looking. Chest pains that recur or persist could mean other respiratory disorders, and should have a doctor's attention—as should a persistent cough, since this or a hard, racking cough could be a sign of something more serious than a common cold.

Colds, especially in children, are often accompanied by earaches, which should have prompt attention.

Finally, a sore throat which is severe or long-lasting may indicate a strep throat and should have professional attention.

Gail L. Forshee becomes Mrs. Raymond Fritzsche

Miss Gail LaVerne Forshee and Raymond P. Fritzsche were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at 2 p.m. Nov. 10 at the Namooki United Methodist Church.

The Rev. William Fester officiated at the afternoon service before an altar adorned with bouquets of bronze and yellow 'mums.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Forshee, 2133 Amos Ave. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald P. Fritzsche, 2800 E. 24th St.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white organza. The fitted bodice was adorned with cluny lace edging the scoop neckline and accenting the full sleeves and fitted cuffs. Lace also accented the Empire waistline, full length skirt and long cathedral length train.

A cluny lace cap secured her shoulder length veil of bridal illusion. She carried a cascade of gardenias and stephanotis.

Miss Karen Deatherage and Miss Judy Kovach attended the bride. They chose tailored gowns in peach and orange shades and carried bouquets of bronze and orange mums and baby breath, accented with long flowing brown streamers. The groom selected Edward Rickert as his best man. Gary Forshee, the bride's brother, served as groomsman and Bill Moser, Gene Reinhardt, Michael Nesbit and George Nemeth were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Forshee appeared in a full length mauve polyester knit gown made with round neckline, Empire waist and fitted sleeves. Mrs. Fritzsche was attired in a rust formal length dress designed with V neckline and fitted sleeves. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the church. Miss Genia Forshee presided over the guest book.

The newlyweds will reside in Collinsville. The bride, a graduate of Blackburn College, is employed by the Collinsville School District as a fourth grade teacher.

Mr. Fritzsche was graduated from the University of Illinois and is employed as a supervisor at Combustion Engineers, Inc. in St. Louis.

Out-of-town guests were here for the wedding from Ziegler, Alhambra, Bunker Hill, Bethalto, Westchester, Dyer, Ma, Springfield, Highland, Caseyville, Collinsville, Rolling Meadows, Alton, and Edwardsville, Ill.; the St. Louis area; Amata, Ia.; Milwaukee, Wis.; and Shawnee Mission, Kan.

HOMEMAKERS PLAN DISTRICT MEETING

Basting turkeys popular

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Home Economics Adviser

Turkey sales indicate that many consumers prefer self-basting birds. In fact, about one-third of the nation's turkey crop last year was processed and marketed as self-basters. Such turkeys are usually U.S. Grade A birds—the best of the flock. Processors inject them with a limited amount—3 per cent—of basting solution that is later released throughout the meat as the bird is roasting.

Many consumers agree that the process improves poultry texture and flavor.

The basting solutions range from straight butter to mixtures of oil and water in various proportions. Oils used are those normally found in margarine, such as cottonseed, soy, coconut or corn oil.

Basting solutions may also contain turkey broth, plus added flavoring and preserving ingredients and antioxidants approved under regulations for federally inspected turkeys. Read the label carefully when you shop so you know what additives you are buying.

While self-basting turkeys may be more tender and flavorful, they may also cost more.

The percentage of basting material also means that the unbasted bird would weigh that much less. And you need to decide if you want to pay the extra price for the convenience feature.

ROASTING THE TURKEY

Proper roasting of the holiday turkey at low temperatures will result in better flavor and appearance, less shrinkage and less loss of juices.

For proper roasting of the turkey, follow these simple steps:

—Preheat the oven to 325 degrees Fahrenheit.

—Rinse, drain and dry the bird. Rub the inside with salt if you don't plan to use a stuffing.

If you're going to stuff the turkey, fill the neck cavity lightly. Fasten the neck skin to the back of the turkey with a skewer. Then fill the body —Fasten the wings to the body using skewers or string, or turn the wing tips to the back of the bird, resting them against the neck skin.

—Insert a meat thermometer in the center of the inside thigh muscle or in the thickest part of the breast meat. Be sure that the thermometer bulb doesn't touch a bone.

—Place the turkey in a preheated oven. If desired, baste or brush occasionally with pan drippings, fat or oil.

—When the turkey is two-thirds done, cut the cord at the tail to release the legs and to permit the heat to reach the heavily-meated part. Cover the legs and breast with a loose tent of aluminum foil to prevent excessive browning.

—Roast until the meat thermometer in the turkey reaches 180 to 185 degrees Fahrenheit.

—If you don't have a meat thermometer, use this timetable of approximate roasting times for stuffed turkey:

Weight Pounds	Hours at 325 Degree F.
6 to 8	3 to 3½
8 to 12	3½ to 4½
12 to 16	4½ to 5½
16 to 20	5½ to 6½
20 to 24	6½ to 7

If turkey is not stuffed, cooking times may be slightly less.

—The traditional "doneness test" used by many experienced cooks is a "feel" test. Turkey is done when the thickest part of the drumstick feels soft when pressed between protected fingers and the drumstick moves easily up and down as the leg joint gives readily or breaks.

—Cool the roasted turkey about 20 minutes to make carving easier.

New division— developmental disabilities

Every five minutes a baby is born who is or will be mentally retarded. There is a three in 100 chance that an unborn child will be retarded.

Mental retardation is a condition, often congenital, in which normal development fails to take place as an infant grows older. It should not be confused with mental illness—a disorder of thinking and emotion which may occur at almost any age in "normal" people.

This has been the concern, coupled with charges of ineffectiveness, of many parents and members of the Illinois Association for Mentally Retarded. They are partly responsible for creation of the Division of Developmental Disabilities within the Department of Mental Health.

The new division represents a compromise between sponsors of a vetoed bill which would have made the DD a new department and Gov. Daniel Walker, who felt the creation of a new department would have "increased costs of the state's mental health programs while reducing their effectiveness."

Enter Dr. Richard Blanton, Blanton, former deputy director of the Division of Mental Retardation, has assumed the role of acting deputy director of the division of DD. This division will encompass that of the former MR division.

"The federal definition of developmental disabilities includes those with cerebral palsy or epilepsy and the mentally retarded. They are classified together because they all involve a neurological problem," explained Blanton, who has been with the DMH for three years. "The DD will provide service supplementing normal services provided in the community."

"Parents of the developmentally disabled have become concerned because many of the mentally retarded are housed with the mentally ill," he continued. "Many of these facilities are good, but it's the ones that are not so good that they're objecting to. This is an area the new division will be evaluating."

One of the main functions of the division is planning.

"Plans for several new mental retardation facilities have been placed in 'hold,'" according to the former special education supervisor, "pending a study, to look at the alternatives."

The Ludecan Center in Park Forest, which houses 217 children, is the newest mental retardation center in the state. Plans call for facilities in Tinley Park and Waukegan to open during the next two fiscal years.

At present, McFarland Zone Center in Springfield is the only facility in the state—one of two facilities in the entire country—to receive a two-year accreditation.

This means that it has met standards set by both the Accreditation Council for Facilities for the Mentally Retarded and the Psychiatric Council of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

KINGS HONORED ON SILVER ANNIVERSARY
On Monday evening at the First Christian Church on Maryville Road, Mr. and Mrs. Carl King were honor guests, the occasion being their 25th wedding anniversary. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Florence Menley, mother of Mrs. King, and her sister, Mrs. Vickie Dollar of Dexter, Mo.

The honorees were presented with gifts, and cake and punch were served. The Rev. Larry Nessary is pastor of the church.

The Rev. Jerry Hart, pastor of the Cedar View Baptist Church, was guest speaker at the Gospel Mission on Tuesday evening.

The Harmony Echo quartet of the Cedar View Baptist Church on Ruth Drive—Pat and Bill Dickerson, Doris Hart and the Rev. Jerry Hart, were guest singers at the third anniversary homecoming at the Cline's Island General Baptist Church in Gray Ridge, Mo., Sunday. Charter members were recognized and services were held throughout the day, with dinner served at noon. The Rev.

Ronnie Ledbetter is pastor of the church; Mrs. Ledbetter is a sister of Mrs. Hart.

Mrs. Leta Kollenbourn of Pontoon Road has returned from a vacation trip with relatives in Carthage, Mo.

CHURCH TO MARK 17th YEAR SUNDAY

Plans are being made by the Cedar View Baptist Church to observe the 17th anniversary of the church on Sunday, Nov. 18. It is to be an old-fashioned day, with the ladies wearing old-fashioned dresses and bonnets and the men attired in bib overalls.

There will be a basket dinner at noon. The history of the church will be given by Mrs. Brenda York, and the James Ballwin vocal trio of Loveland, Ohio, will be featured. The music is being invited, especially gospel singers.

Mrs. Susie Yokley and daughter, Denise, and Mrs. Linda Biggs and daughter, Michelle, all of Pontoon Road, have returned from a two-week vacation. They went to Florida and also visited the Smoky Mountains.

HONOR KATRINA BIGGS
Miss Katrina Biggs was the honor guest at a slumber party for her 12th birthday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Biggs, on Lakeview Drive during the weekend. There were games, and records were played.

Refreshments, snacks and pizza were served throughout the evening, with doughnuts and hot chocolate for breakfast.

Guests included Kim Smothers, Diana Barlock, Sandy Spurlock, Darla Lewis, Kristie Frey, Darla Sturdivant, Sherry Woods, Julia Rowden, Candy Golden, Bess Gusewelle, Donna Lawson and Lynn Awall. Gifts were presented.

TATE INFANT NAMED

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Tate, 26 Victoria Drive, have selected Nicole Jane as the name of their first daughter. She weighed six pounds, four ounces, and has a brother Sammy, seven years old.

MRS. PEARL M. WRIGHT, 3112 Colgate Place, has received a Department of Army certificate commending her sustained superior job performance and a Special Act Award. Mrs. Wright is employed by the Procurement Division of Headquarters and Installation Support Activity at Granite City.

Mrs. Ridenour dies at 84

Mrs. Mary Etta (Snow) Ridenour, 84, of 2305 Winters Drive, Ill. for six months, died at 4:30 p.m. Monday at the Colonial Manor Nursing Home, Maryville.

A resident of Granite City since 1915, Mrs. Ridenour, was born in Fieldin, Ill. She was of the Presbyterian faith.

Her husband, Clarence Ridenour, died March 28, 1965. Surviving is a son, Clarence Edward Ridenour Jr. of Granite City and three grandchildren. Funeral services were held Wednesday. Details are given in the obituary column.

Magnavox[®] VIDEOMATIC solid-state color TV

... adjusts its own picture to changing room light
... automatically!

Before Videomatic, no other TV could do it! It's the first color TV that automatically adjusts its own picture to changing room light—to give you the proper balance of color, brightness and contrast—day or night . . . for a clear, sharp picture in any room, any light. One-button tuning, of course. In fact, it's the most completely automatic one-button tuning system you can buy. And even with the preset controls, you (not a service technician) can still adjust the picture to suit your own taste or local signal conditions.

Magnavox 100% solid-state modular chassis

100% solid-state is the most reliable TV you can buy because there's not a single tube to cause damaging chassis heat . . . or to burn out. The solid-state components last a long, long time—much longer than tubes. As a result, you have greater reliability . . . and more dependable performance. With plug-in circuit panels, mini-circuit modules, integrated circuits and many plug-in transistors, a Magnavox

Solid-State Modular Chassis offers major servicing advantages—speed, convenience and low cost. Should servicing ever become necessary, it can usually be done right in your own home . . . quickly and economically.

One Full Year
Warranty on all
1974 Magnavox
Color TV

ONE FULL YEAR PARTS and SERVICE. If anything goes wrong with your TV during the first year and it's the fault of Magnavox, it will be repaired—with no charge for labor or parts. And, if your picture tube becomes defective within two years, it will be exchanged for a new tube. In the first year, Magnavox pays for installation; in the second year, you pay.

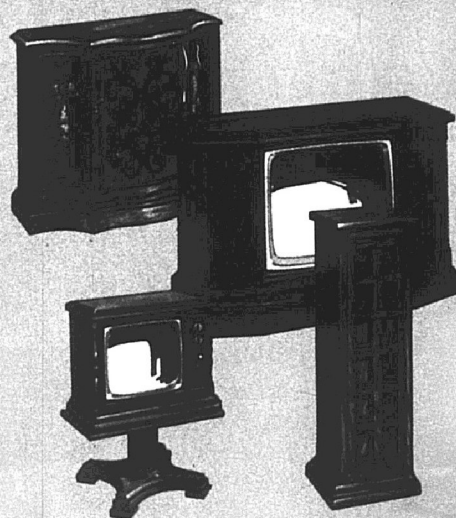

Magnavox, the most thoroughly tested of the 5 best selling solid-state color TV's Videomatic...Extra-Tested for Extra Reliability. Every Magnavox solid-state color TV must pass 24 continuous hours of precision in-use testing. Of the 5 leading solid-state color TV manufacturers, only Magnavox pays this much attention to your set before it leaves the factory. This all happens at the new Magnavox high precision testing facility in Greeneville, Tennessee. Where every facet of every Magnavox Videomatic is scrutinized. Like color correctness, sound quality, picture sharpness, and clarity. Every Magnavox Videomatic is even turned on and off—not just once, but a minimum of 10 times. It's this kind of care that's producing the most reliable color TV in Magnavox history. And we have every reason to believe it's the most reliable you can buy. Only Magnavox, of the 5 leading makers of solid-state TV's, checks out its product this carefully . . . because Magnavox wants your color TV to work perfectly at their place before it gets to your place. What a difference owning a Magnavox.

Magnavox builds Television and Stereo in a wide variety of sizes, shapes and designs to fit your lifestyle!

Whether you have furnished your home in a single style . . . or have expressed yourself and your particular individuality in an eclectic decor—Magnavox has a stereo or TV that is compatible to your lifestyle, whatever it is. Skilled Magnavox designers and craftsmen have retained the classic symmetry and simplicity of the furniture artistry of long-ago civilizations—to create cabinets which will harmoniously blend . . . and magnificently enhance . . . provincial, traditional and contemporary decors—yet still maintain their own distinctive individuality. And each is as functional as it is beautiful—offering wonderful viewing or listening pleasure. A Magnavox truly exemplifies the blending of engineering technology and furniture artistry. See for yourself.

Model 4730—striking Contemporary styling in White and grained Pecan finish.

Magnavox Super Bright Picture Tube™

The black Matrix tube—in all Magnavox 25" (diagonal) consoles . . . has precise red, green and blue phosphor dots completely surrounded by a black matrix to absorb more reflected room light and to give you better picture contrast with far more brightness than offered in conventional non-matrix or positive matrix picture tubes. And, a new clearer face plate permits greater light output from the phosphor dots. You'll enjoy exciting color brilliance and definition of detail.

Model 4736—Mediterranean styling grained Pecan finish.

Solid-State Color Consoles

Although space-saving in size, these lovely consoles are very "large" in performance features and fine furniture styling! The same high degree of quality, reliability and performance as is found in larger Magnavox models is incorporated into these outstanding values. Each offers all the marvelous advantages of the Videomatic Color System—that does everything you expect from a "one-button" system . . . plus more! They even automatically adjust the picture to give you the right balance of brightness, contrast and color—under any light conditions. And they offer the proven reliability of a modular 100% solid-state chassis. Advanced Matrix picture tube technology, too! Good to look at—on or off—the cabinets are beautifully finished on selected hardwood solids, hardboard and non-wood material.
